11 Banks To Distribute $196,998 Among 4,400 Christmas Club Members

The eleven Adams county banks that conducted Christmas clubs during 1942 will mail out nearly $200,000 in savings checks to nearly 4,400 club members within the next week or ten days, a Gettysburg Times survey showed today.

While eight of the 11 banks will distribute larger sums than in 1941, the three others have depleted clubs this year. The decrease of approximately 700 club memberships throughout the county is traceable largely, some bankers said, to the popularity of war stamps and bonds as a means of accumulating savings. Other banks said their clubs were unaffected by the bond and stamp sales.

Average Check $44.87

The total sum to be distributed by the end of the first week of December in this county is $196,998.28, the Times survey showed, with some banks lacking exact figures and submitting estimates for their institutions.

The average club member will receive $44.87, five dollars more than in 1941.

The largest club in the county this year, as in 1941, was conducted by The Gettysburg National bank which will mail checks totaling $62,367.64 or about $2,000 more than was distributed last year. The number of its club memberships decreased by about 200. The checks will be in the mail by December 1.

The First National of Gettysburg will mail checks on December 1 to 935 club members—totaling about $85,000.

Over 1,000 Littlestown Members Six hundred and fifty-two club members at the Littlestown State bank will be mailed checks totaling $29,875 on December 1. This year's club was the largest ever conducted by the bank.

The Littlestown National bank will distribute about $22,000 to approximately 400 club members on December 1.

The Farmers' bank of McSherrystown also has the largest club in its history and will mail out $19,500 in checks to 493 club members on December 1. Last year that bank's club accumulated $18,000.

The county banking house with the record of the biggest increase over the 1941 figures is the Farmers and Merchants bank at New Oxford. Last year 175 club members saved $7,800, but this year 165 members accumulated $11,455.84. Those checks will go out next Monday.

The Biglerville National club total is $5,600 in 105 accounts. Those checks are to be mailed on Saturday.

Other Totals The club at the First National bank of Fairfield showed a considerable increase over the 1941 record. This year's total is $5,400 as against $4,100 last year. The 100 club members this year will get their checks about December 1.

The Arendtsville National's 45 club members have saved $2,500 this year and will get their checks about December 5.

The Benderville National will mail 35 checks amounting to $1,800 on December 1.

The York Springs National's club total jumped from $1,000 last year to $1,500 in 1942. Thirty checks go out about December 1.

All of the banks that conducted clubs this year are making plans for 1943 clubs and some of the institutions already are beginning to enroll members.

Only the two banks of East Berlin and the Abbottstown State bank did not have clubs in 1942. They are not planning clubs for next year.

OPA Places Average Turkey Price At $6

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—A good turkey will cost the average housewife about $6 this Thanksgiving.

The Office of Price Administration made this estimate today checking its schedule of maximum prices for turkeys which vary with different qualities and different localities throughout the country, depending partly on the closeness of a community to the turkey producing areas.

Top quality birds will cost between 46 and 55 cents a pound in the larger cities.

ZOWIE!

San Diego, Calif., Nov. 24 (AP)—A four-cent overcharge for a half-pound of bacon—a 27-cent transaction—cost two merchants $77.

OPA Attorney Morey Levenson said August Porfirio and Theodore Glinulis stipulated yesterday that a judgment could be entered against them in a case brought by Mrs. Eldon E. Porter, the first action seeking damages in this war-crowded town for alleged price ceiling violations.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE LAUNCHED; $1,000 SOUGHT

Cooperating with the nationwide thirty-sixth annual Christmas seal sale, the Adams County Tuberculosis society will place in the mails this week 5,000 letters containing more than 500,000 tuberculosis stamps and addressed to county business firms and residents.

The letter accompanying the seals is signed by L. C. Keefe, president of the county Tuberculosis association, and carries an appeal for contributions to continue to support the fight against tuberculosis.

Goal is $1,000

The county organization hopes this year to raise $1,000 or more through the sale of seals with which to continue to furnish milk and clothing and other types of assistance to persons afflicted with the disease. Educational materials are furnished to the schools of the county.

A special project to be carried forward during the coming year in Adams county is the conduct of tests and X-ray examinations among high school pupils throughout the county if the necessary funds are forthcoming from the public.

"To accomplish these things, we are counting on your help," President Keefe writes. "The enclosed seals not only will brighten your Christmas mail and packages, but they also will aid in brightening the hopes of many who may be saved from the dreaded disease of tuberculosis."

Officers of Association

The mailing of the letters is being handled by Miss Helen Spangler, executive secretary. Checks should be made payable to W. A. Keeney, treasurer. Ralph Z. Oyler, Gettysburg, is first vice president of the county association; Miss Dorothy Warner, second vice president; Miss Margaret McMillan, secretary; Mr. Keeney, treasurer; and other members of the executive board are: Wilbur A. Bankert, Littlestown; Mrs. E. B. Benner, Fairfield; Dr. J. L. Boyer, Arendtsville; Dr. Donald B. Coover, Littlestown; Mrs. Ira Henderson, Fairfield; Mrs. Maude W. Kennedy, York Springs; Mrs. C. D. Krout, Gettysburg; Mrs. Richard Livingston, New Oxford; A. E. Orner, Arendtsville; H. S. Reigle and J. Francis Yake, Esq., McSherrystown; Dr. R. F. Sheely, Gettysburg, and Paul M. Schwartz, East Berlin.

Edward L. Weikerts Will Observe 59th Wedding Anniversary

On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Weikert will observe their fifty-ninth wedding anniversary at their home at Two Taverns. Both are enjoying the best of health.

The couple was married on Thanksgiving Day, November 25, 1883, by the late Rev. J. A. Metzgar in Littlestown. They engaged in farming all of their married life until their retirement in 1931.

They have six children: Mrs. William Herman, New Oxford; Mrs. George Shertzer, Lancaster; Edward L. Weikert, Jr., Washington, D. C.; Mervin D. Weikert, Gettysburg; R. D.; Mrs. James Salmon, Lemoyne; and Mrs. Dannie Newman, Littlestown R. 1.

Board No. 2 Mails Questions To Youths

Draft Board No. 2 in the First National bank building today mailed Selective Service questionnaires to 248 18- and 19-year-old youths in this section of Adams county, who registered last June.

Next month another registration will be conducted for boys who came of draft age since the June registration.

Snow Plow Equipment Ready For 1st Storm

Snow plow equipment is being assembled and readied for the season's first snowstorm, J. William Kendlehart, state highway maintenance superintendent, said today.

Highway workmen nearly have completed the erection of the nearly 16 miles of snow fences to be placed along exposed sections of county highways. A total of 82,850 feet of fence—the same amount as was used last year—will be used.

Booth Sales Now Totals $11,915

The sale of war bonds and stamps at the Majestic theatre booth now totals $11,915.25 according to an announcement today by Sydney J. Poppay, theatre manager.

During the week of November 9 $150 in bonds and $93.35 in stamps were sold and last week $450 in bonds and $114.40 in stamps were sold.

Ladies' Night At Elks On Wednesday

The Gettysburg Lodge of Elks will hold a Ladies' Night at the lodge home on York street Wednesday evening.

A turkey dinner will be served to members and their guests from 6-to-8 o'clock after which a floor show will be presented.

J. U. TROSTLE DIES; ILL YEAR

John Urban Trostle, 50, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Emory Shindeldecker, 213 West Middle street, this morning at 10:45 o'clock from a complication of diseases. He had been in ill health for over a year and became bedfast Sunday.

Mr. Trostle was born in Adams county, a son of the late Leighton and Eliza (Rhode) Trostle. He was employed at the Gettysburg Furniture company, retiring in August, 1941, due to ill health.

Surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Miss Jennie B. Trostle, Atlantic City, New Jersey; Emory York; Harvey, Gettysburg; Mrs. Bessie Spangler, Gettysburg; R. D.; Harrison, Hanover; Mrs. Shindeldecker, with whom he resided; Mrs. Guy Gordon, Gettysburg; R. D. and Mrs. A. D. Kessel, Gettysburg.

Funeral services from the Bender funeral home Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Myers. Interment in Evergreen cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening after 7 o'clock.

Retailers Must "Bank" All Rationed Products

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—Dealers in rationed commodities are going to put their sugar in the bank. A system of "ration banking" requiring separate bank accounts for sugar, coffee, gasoline and other rationed products will be placed in operation throughout the nation sometime in January, the Office of Price Administration announced last night.

A grocer, for example, will deposit in the bank all the sugar ration coupons he collects from customers. To replenish his stock, he will draw a check on his rationing account for required number of coupons. The check goes to the grocer's supplier who in turn will deposit the check in his own rationing account.

The checks, cleared in the same manner as checks for money will be handled by 14,000 commercial banks which will be reimbursed by the government for the added expense of keeping the new accounts of pounds and gallons of rationed products.

Designed to facilitate the handling of the coupons, the system will affect only retailers, distributors and large users of rationed goods such as restaurants which buy from wholesalers. The householder will not be affected directly.

Presently, rationing stamps and coupons are taken to local ration boards and exchanged for certificates of larger denominations used to replenish supplies of rationed goods.

The system was tested in the Albany-Schenectady-Troy area of New York and was successful, OPA said, in relieving local boards of an increasing clerical burden.

DR. THORNING EXPECTS CHILE, ARGENTINA TO HELP FIGHT AXIS

Eventual full collaboration of Chile and Argentina with the Allied nations in the war against the Axis was predicted by Dr. Joseph Thorning, head of the department of ethics and sociology at Mount St. Mary's college, in an address before members of the three local service clubs Monday evening in the Blue Parrot tea room at the fourth birthday party of the Soroptimist club of Gettysburg.

Doctor Thorning, who recently was elected to membership in the Historical and Geographic society of Brazil, spoke on the general subject of "South America" and indicated factors of climate, geography and race that affect all South American problems.

Judge Is Toastmaster Judge W. C. Sheely was toastmaster for the evening with 82 Soroptimists, Lions, Rotarians and other special guests in attendance. A turkey dinner was served.

BIGLER CAST TO GIVE PLAY TWO EVENINGS

The Peter Pan Players Dramatic club of the Biglerville high school will present a dramatization of Mark Twain's "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" this evening and Wednesday evening in the school auditorium.

The story deals with the adventures of a Yankee from Connecticut, a chemist who through a mishap in one of his experiments, finds himself back in the Middle Ages. His first thought is that he is in an insane asylum but is shortly convinced that he is faced with a death sentence handed down by King Arthur. His ingenuity comes immediately to the fore and by predicting an eclipse of the sun not only saves his own life but becomes the idol of the kingdom. As the plot unfolds, a page named Clarence and a saucy young miss, Elaine, seem to be his only friends. Merlin, a crafty villain, and the Queen want him burned at the stake but he manages to keep the knights of the court completely baffled by his magic. What happens when he is lured away from the kingdom to investigate other domains will keep the audience in laughter and suspense from start to finish.

Leo Kleinfelter plays the title role in the play; Vivienne Rebert the role of the Queen and the role of King Arthur is portrayed by Guenther Slusser.

C. Of C. To Hear Bircher Tonight

The monthly get-together meeting of the membership of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Blue Parrot tea room. President Mares Sherman will preside over the business session. Business matters of interest and concern to the people of the town will be discussed.

The guest speaker will be Richard Bircher, manager of the new airport along the Mummasburg road. He will speak of future plans for the airport and tell of the pilot-training work being done for the Army and Navy at his flying school.

RATION STAMPS BEING MAILED TO FUEL OIL USERS

Fuel oil and kerosene rations for about 1,500 residents of Gettysburg and western Adams county went into the mail this afternoon, while residents of the eastern section of the county will be mailed their fuel stamp sheets Wednesday. Board No. 1 at New Oxford mailed the first of their rations-out-Monday.

Most householders who have oil furnaces and water heaters will find "drastic" cuts in their fuel oil supply for the coming year, Donald P. McPherson, Jr., county rationing board chairman, said today.

Use OPA Formula

The rations, computed on the basis of a formula supplied by the OPA and the information contained in the consumer's application, in many cases will be from 30 to 33 per cent under the amount of fuel needed for a normal year. The last heating season was about 15 per cent below normal so that the reduction from the amount used last year may be only about 15 per cent in many instances, he said.

Consumers, upon receiving their stamp sheets, should write on each coupon the number of the sheet on which it is found, the rationing chairman said.

Most rations for oil furnaces and heaters were issued for a period ending September 30, 1943, and most rations for oil for lighting and cooking also were granted on a one-year basis. Oil for tractors and some other miscellaneous uses was granted for a period ending March 1, 1943, while in a few cases the ration was granted only for a three-month period.

Check Expiration Date

"Consumers should look on their sheets for their expiration date and regulate their consumption of fuel accordingly," Mr. McPherson said. Some stamps have been assigned a definite value and were issued chiefly for fuel for lighting, cooking, tractors and miscellaneous uses. They may be used at any time, he explained.

Fuel oil rations for furnaces and heaters include stamps with an indefinite value and those with a value already assigned.

Five Periods in Year

The stamps with an indefinite value are divided into five periods covering the one-year span of the ration.

Period 1 ends December 2 with a 10-gallon value already assigned to stamps in that period. The value of the stamps in the four following periods will be fixed later.

Period 2 extends from December 3 to January 6; Period 3 from January 6 to February 7; Period 4 from February 7 to March 13, and Period 5 from March 13 to September 30.

Any questions the consumers have on the rationing plan can be answered by their dealers or at the rationing boards, today's announcement said.

Mr. McPherson today thanked the staff of volunteers for their "enthusiastic response" to the call for help the ration boards issued last Saturday. The volunteers are finishing their task today at the Gettysburg high school building.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. James Saylor, Rocky Ridge, Maryland; Harry J. Irvin, Littlestown; Mrs. Ray Slaybaugh, Thurmont; Mrs. Roy Garner, Taneytown; Walter Caskey, Gettysburg, and Mrs. Alvin Kuhns, Emmitsburg, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Mrs. Milton Plank, Gettysburg, has been discharged.

Russians Smash Nazi Lines; Foe Hammered In Tunisia; New Guinea Japs Blasted

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Allied offensives jarred Hitler-Hirohito & Co. further off balance on every front in World War II today.

While the Russians steadily tightened a gigantic trap against 300,000 to 400,000 Nazis in the Stalingrad sector, American, British and Fighting French forces hammered the Axis into an ever-narrowing corridor along the Mediterranean coast from Libya to Tunisia in North Africa.

German headquarters acknowledged with rare frankness that the Red armies had penetrated into Nazi defense lines south of Stalingrad and in the big loop of the Don river west of the long-besieged Volga city. The Nazi communiqué said vaguely that "counter measures are proceeding."

In the far Pacific, American and Australian troops under Gen. Douglas MacArthur furiously attacked the last dwindling nests of Japanese resistance on the Papua peninsula, in New Guinea, and U.S. Army heavy bombers blasted Japanese invasion forces amid the ruined temples of Mandalay, Burma.

These were the highlights in 24 hours of unbroken good news for the United Nations on the world's far-flung battlefronts, with the picture further brightened by the announced adherence of French forces at Dakar to the side of the Allies and by a diplomatic pact eliminating French Martinique in the Caribbean sea as a potential menace to the western hemisphere.

Fierce Fight Develops For Tunis, Bizerte

(By The Associated Press)

London, Nov. 24—A violent and costly air struggle for control of the Tunisian skies and the Axis always over the Mediterranean appeared in the making today, reports from Allied North Africa headquarters indicated, as British and American troops moved slowly into position for the all-out drive on Tunis and Bizerte.

A headquarters spokesman, noting the gathering of great fleets of German planes in the Mediterranean area and the continued arrival of Axis reinforcements in Tunisia, said "the fight is going to be tough and longer than might be expected."

A Vichy broadcast recorded by Reuters said the Allied-held ports of Algiers, Bone and Bougie, in Algeria, were bombed heavily last night.

The general picture in Africa was improved greatly by the announced adherence of French forces at Dakar to Admiral Jean Darlan, now cooperating with the Allies in North Africa, but the task of driving Axis Tunisian forces into the sea grew in magnitude hourly.

The Allied advance toward the core of German resistance in the Tunis-Bizerte region of northeastern Tunisia has been hampered and slowed by Axis air forces, reports from headquarters indicated, although British Spitfires and other Allied fighter planes are now in action and have scored notable successes.

Get Air Support

German bombers, operating from Italian bases in Sardinia and Sicily, can hop over to Tunisia in little more than an hour and the Axis air bases in Tunisia have been mightily reinforced with fighters and bombers, some flown from the Russian front, it was said.

The action of French leaders in Dakar in throwing in their lot with Admiral Darlan was regarded by official Allied quarters in North Africa as "purely a French matter," but the acquisition of the excellent naval port by Darlan was recognized as of great advantage to the Allies.

It was assumed that the port would be thrown open to Allied warships and shipping as were Casablanca, Oran and Algiers, providing an important base in the south Atlantic. But, above all, it removed the possibility that the base might be used for Axis submarines and thus wiped out a large threat to shipping in the south Atlantic.

The disposition of the French warships now anchored at Dakar was not announced.

Allies Fight Yard-By-Yard Toward Buna

By C. YATES McDANIEL

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Nov. 24 (AP)—American and Australian soldiers fought their way yard-by-yard toward Buna today against Japanese forces that apparently have chosen to be exterminated rather than to surrender their southernmost New Guinea beachhead.

Extending the picture of relentless envelopment, today's midday communiqué reported an Australian jungle column had moved into Gona, enemy anchor 12 miles above Buna, and was mopping up the die-hard garrison there.

Overrun Cape

Simultaneously, American forces overran Cape Endiadeere which lies three miles southeast of Buna, overcoming stiff resistance from many machinegun nests and treepost snipers.

While some of the Allied left wing forces were completing the mop-up job in Gona, others turned down the coast toward Sanananda, between Gona and Buna, which the enemy was reported to occupy in force.

The Japanese were resisting fiercely around Buna although they were forced to fight with no air support and no sea support.

Allied planes continued to support the ground advance and one formation swept over the Kumisi river, which curves around the battle area to the northwest, to sink a number of rafts on which Japanese who had been cut off from their Buna base were trying to reach the sea.

With Gona entered and Allied troops reported on the beach below (Please Turn to Page 2)

ICKES ASKS 2ND OIL PIPELINE

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—Petroleum Coordinator Ickes told a congressional committee today he has requested authority to construct a second new oil pipeline from the southwest oil fields to the New York-Philadelphia area, and said if approved it would add 200,000 barrels daily to eastern oil supplies.

The Interior secretary told a House interstate commerce subcommittee it would take from nine to twelve months to build the line if authority and priorities were granted.

It would supplement a line already being built from Longview, Texas, to Norris City, Illinois, and thence to New Jersey.

50,000 Boche Are Killed In Russian Drive

By EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, Nov. 24 (AP)—The jaws of a double Russian offensive which battlefield reports said had bit deeply into the cold steppes west of the Don bend—and cost the Germans 50,000 dead and captured were closing steadily today upon the Nazis' whole Stalingrad salient.

Despite desperate German resistance in an effort to keep open a corridor of reinforcement or escape to the long-besieged Volga bastion, the Russians reported new gains to maintain their average of six to 12 miles a day northwest of Stalingrad and nine to 12 miles a day southwest of the city.

Deepest Push

The deepest reported penetration was at Chernyshevskaya on the Chir river, 125 miles west of Stalingrad, 75 miles west of Kalach, the railroad town on the Don bend which the Russians seized over the weekend.

Chernyshevskaya is some 40 miles southeast of Kleitskaya, the Don river citadel 100 miles northwest of Stalingrad which the Nazis overran in their fall drive toward the Volga. Now German holding positions at Kleitskaya are menaced from two sides, since the Russians also are on the offensive in the Serafimovich, 30 miles farther up the Don.

Southwest of Stalingrad the Russians were pushing along the rail line which leads from Stalingrad across the bleak Malynok steppes into the northern Caucasus. They reported driving on after taking Aksai in a 10-mile advance from Abganerova, 40 miles southwest of Stalingrad.

Relieve Towns

The regular midday communiqué did not name any of the towns captured through the night but said that "our units occupied a number of populated places" northwest of Stalingrad, indicating that the Axis forces that have been battering at that city for three months were in growing danger of encirclement.

The Russians were reported to have driven one prong of the two-pronged offensive as far as 125 miles northwest of Stalingrad.

Siege-toughened defenders of Stalingrad helped themselves, too, clearing the Germans from 17 blockhouses, killing 250 and capturing two guns and an assortment of smaller arms, the communiqué said.

John Urban Trostle, 50, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Emory Shindeldecker, 213 West Middle street, this morning at 10:45 o'clock from a complication of diseases. He had been in ill health for over a year and became bedfast Sunday.

Mr. Trostle was born in Adams county, a son of the late Leighton and Eliza (Rhode) Trostle. He was employed at the Gettysburg Furniture company, retiring in August, 1941, due to ill health.

Surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Miss Jennie B. Trostle, Atlantic City, New Jersey; Emory, York; Harvey, Gettysburg; Mrs. Bessie Spangler, Gettysburg; R. D.; Harrison, Hanover; Mrs. Shindeldecker, with whom he resided; Mrs. Guy Gordon, Gettysburg; R. D.; and Mrs. A. D. Kessel, Gettysburg.

Funeral services from the Bender funeral home Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. and Mrs. Harold Myers. Interment in Evergreen cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening after 7 o'clock.

Retailers Must "Bank" All Rationed Products

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—Dealers in rationed commodities are going to put their sugar in the bank. A system of "ration banking" requiring separate bank accounts for sugar, coffee, gasoline and other rationed products will be placed in operation throughout the nation sometime in January, the Office of Price Administration announced last night.

A grocer, for example, will deposit in the bank all the sugar ration coupons he collects from customers. To replenish his stock, he will draw a check on his rationing account for required number of coupons. The check goes to the grocer's supplier who in turn will deposit the check in his own rationing account.

The checks, cleared in the same manner as checks for money will be handled by 14,000 commercial

DR. THORNING EXPECTS CHILE, ARGENTINA TO HELP FIGHT AXIS

Eventual full collaboration of Chile and Argentina with the Allied nations in the war against the Axis was predicted by Dr. Joseph Thorning, head of the department of ethics and sociology at Mount St. Mary's college, in an address before members of the three local service clubs Monday evening in the Blue Parrot tea room at the fourth birthday party of the Soroptimist club of Gettysburg.

Doctor Thorning, who recently was elected to membership in the Historical and Geographic society of Brazil, spoke on the general subject of "South America" and indicated factors of climate, geography and race that affect all South American problems.

Judge Is Toastmaster

Judge W. C. Sheely was toastmaster for the evening with 82 Soroptimists, Lions, Rotarians and other special guests in attendance. A turkey dinner was served.

Oscar Shaw, singing star of radio, stage and screen, entertained with snatches of song from popular musical shows in which he has appeared and the Gettysburg high school gowned chorus sang under (Please Turn to Page 2)

BIGLER CAST TO GIVE PLAY TWO EVENINGS

The Peter Pan Players Dramatic club of the Biglerville high school will present a dramatization of Mark Twain's 'A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court' this evening and Wednesday evening in the school auditorium.

The story deals with the adventures of a Yankee from Connecticut, a chemist who through a mishap in one of his experiments, finds himself back in the Middle Ages. His first thought is that he is in an insane asylum but is shortly convinced that he is faced with a death sentence handed down by King Arthur. His ingenuity comes immediately to the fore and by predicting an eclipse of the sun not only saves his own life but becomes the idol of the kingdom. As the plot unfolds, a page named Clarence and a saucy young miss, Elaine, seem to be his only friends. Merlin, a crafty villain, and the Queen want him burned at the stake but he manages to keep the knights of the court completely baffled by his magic. What happens when he is lured away from the kingdom to investigate other domains will keep the audience in laughter and suspense from start to finish.

Leo Kleinfelter plays the title role in the play; Vivienne Rebert the role of the Queen and the role of King Arthur is portrayed by Guenther Slusser.

C. Of C. To Hear Bircher Tonight

The monthly get-together meeting of the membership of the Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce will be held this evening at 6 o'clock at the Blue Parrot tea room. President Mares Sherman will preside over the business session. Business matters of interest and concern to the people of the town will be discussed.

The guest speaker will be Richard Bircher, manager of the new airport along the Mummaburg road. He will speak of future plans for the airport and tell of the pilot-training work being done for the Army and Navy at his flying school.

RATION STAMPS BEING MAILED TO FUEL OIL USERS

Fuel oil and kerosene rations for about 1,500 residents of Gettysburg and western Adams county went into the mail this afternoon, while residents of the eastern section of the county will be mailed their fuel stamp sheets Wednesday. Board No. 1 at New Oxford mailed the first of their rations out Monday.

Most householders who have oil furnaces and water heaters will find "drastic" cuts in their fuel oil supply for the coming year, Donald P. McPherson, Jr., county rationing board chairman, said today.

Use OPA Formula
The rations, computed on the basis of a formula supplied by the OPA and the information contained in the consumer's application, in many cases will be from 30 to 33 per cent under the amount of fuel needed for a normal year. The last heating season was about 15 per cent below normal so that the reduction from the amount used last year may be only about 15 per cent in many instances, he said.

Consumers, upon receiving their stamp sheets, should write on each coupon the number of the sheet on which it is found, the rationing chairman said.

Most rations for oil furnaces and heaters were issued for a period ending September 30, 1943, and most rations for oil for lighting and cooking also were granted on a one-year basis. Oil for tractors and some other miscellaneous uses was granted for a period ending March 1, 1943, while in a few cases the ration was granted only for a three-month period.

Check Expiration Date

"Consumers should look on their sheets for their expiration date and regulate their consumption of fuel accordingly," Mr. McPherson said. Some stamps have been assigned a definite value and were issued chiefly for fuel for lighting, cooking, tractors and miscellaneous uses. They may be used at any time, he explained.

Fuel oil rations for furnaces and heaters include stamps with an indefinite value and those with a value already assigned.

Five Periods in Year

The stamps with an indefinite value are divided into five periods covering the one-year span of the ration.

Period 1 ends December 2 with a 10-gallon value already assigned to stamps in that period. The value of the stamps in the four following periods will be fixed later.

Period 2 extends from December 3 to January 6; Period 3 from January 6 to February 7; Period 4 from February 7 to March 13, and Period 5 from March 13 to September 30.

Any questions the consumers have on the rationing plan can be answered by their dealers or at the rationing boards, today's announcement said.

Mr. McPherson today thanked the staff of volunteers for their "enthusiastic response" to the call for help the ration boards issued last Saturday. The volunteers are finishing their task today at the Gettysburg high school building.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. James Saylor, Rocky Ridge, Maryland; Harry J. Irvin, Littlestown; Mrs. Ray Slaybaugh, Thurmont; Mrs. Roy Garner, Taneytown; Walter Caskey, Gettysburg; and Mrs. Alvin Kuhns, Emmitsburg, have been admitted as patients to the Warner hospital. Mrs. Milton Plank, Gettysburg, has been discharged.

Russians Smash Nazi Lines; Foe Hammered In Tunisia; New Guinea Japs Blasted

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Allied offensives jarred Hitler-Hirohito & Co. further off balance on every front in World War II today.

While the Russians steadily tightened a gigantic trap against 300,000 to 400,000 Nazis in the Stalingrad sector, American, British and Fighting French forces hammered the Axis into an ever-narrowing corridor along the Mediterranean coast from Libya to Tunisia in North Africa.

German headquarters acknowledged with rare frankness that the Red armies had penetrated into Nazi defense lines south of Stalingrad and in the big loop of the Don river west of the long-besieged Volga city. The Nazi communiqué said vaguely that "counter measures are proceeding."

In the far Pacific, American and Australian troops under Gen. Douglas MacArthur furiously attacked the last dwindling nests of Japanese resistance on the Papua peninsula, in New Guinea, and U.S. Army heavy bombers blasted Japanese invasion forces amid the ruined temples of Mandalay, Burma.

These were the highlights in 24 hours of unbroken good news for the United Nations on the world's far-flung battlefronts, with the picture further brightened by the announced adherence of French forces at Dakar to the side of the Allies and by a diplomatic pact eliminating French Martinique in the Caribbean sea as a potential menace to the western hemisphere.

Fierce Fight Develops For Tunis, Bizerte

(By The Associated Press)

London, Nov. 24—A violent and costly air struggle for control of the Tunisian skies and the Axis airways over the Mediterranean appeared in the making today, reports from Allied North Africa headquarters indicated, as British and American troops moved slowly into position for the all-out drive on Tunis and Bizerte.

A headquarters spokesman, noting the gathering of great fleets of German planes in the Mediterranean area and the continued arrival of Axis reinforcements in Tunisia, said "the fight is going to be tough and longer than might be expected."

A Vichy broadcast recorded by Reuters said the Allied-held ports of Algiers, Bone and Bougie, in Algeria, were bombed heavily last night.

The general picture in Africa was improved greatly by the announced adherence of French forces at Dakar to Admiral Jean Darlan, now cooperating with the Allies in North Africa, but the task of driving Axis Tunisian forces into the sea grew in magnitude hourly.

The Allied advance toward the core of German resistance in the Tunis-Bizerte region of northeastern Tunisia has been hampered and slowed by Axis air forces, reports from headquarters indicated, although British Spitfires and other Allied fighter planes are now in action and have scored notable successes.

Get Air Support

German bombers, operating from Italian bases in Sardinia and Sicily, can hop over to Tunisia in little more than an hour and the Axis air bases in Tunisia have been mightily reinforced with fighters and bombers, some flown from the Russian front, it was said.

The action of French leaders in Dakar in throwing in their lot with Admiral Darlan was regarded by official Allied quarters in North Africa as "purely a French matter," but the acquisition of the excellent naval port by Darlan was recognized as of great advantage to the Allies.

It was assumed that the port would be thrown open to Allied warships and shipping as were Casablanca, Oran and Algiers, providing an important base in the south Atlantic. But, above all, it removed the possibility that the base might be used for Axis submarines and thus wiped out a large threat to shipping in the south Atlantic.

The disposition of the French warships now anchored at Dakar was not announced.

Allies Fight Yard-By-Yard Toward Buna

By C. YATES McDANIEL

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Australia, Nov. 24 (AP)—American and Australian soldiers fought their way yard-by-yard toward Buna today against Japanese forces that apparently have chosen to be exterminated rather than to surrender their southernmost New Guinea beachhead.

Extending the picture of relentless envelopment, today's midday communiqué reported an Australian jungle column had moved into Gona, enemy anchor 12 miles above Buna, and was mopping up the die-hard garrison there.

Overrun Cape
Simultaneously, American forces overran Cape Endiaderre which lies three miles southeast of Buna, overcoming stiff resistance from many machinegun nests and treetop snipers.

While some of the Allied left wing forces were completing the mop-up job in Gona, others turned down the coast toward Sanananda, between Gona and Buna, which the enemy was reported to occupy in force.

The Japanese were resisting fiercely around Buna although they were forced to fight with no air support and no sea support.

Allied planes continued to support the ground advance and one formation swept over the Kumis river, which curves around the battle area to the northwest, to sink a number of rafts on which Japanese who had been cut off from their Buna base were trying to reach the sea.

With Gona entered and Allied troops reported on the beach before (Please Turn to Page 2)

ICKES ASKS 2ND OIL PIPELINE

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—Petroleum Coordinator Ickes told a congressional committee today he has requested authority to construct a second new oil pipeline from the southwest oil fields to the New York-Philadelphia area, and said if approved it would add 200,000 barrels daily to eastern oil supplies.

The interior secretary told a House interstate commerce subcommittee it would take from nine to twelve months to build the line if authority and priorities were granted.

It would supplement a line already being built from Longview, Texas, to Norris City, Illinois, and thence to New Jersey.

50,000 Boche Are Killed In Russian Drive

By EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, Nov. 24 (AP)—The jaws of a double Russian offensive which battlefield reports said had bit deeply into the cold steppes west of the Don bend—and cost the Germans 50,000 dead and captured were closing steadily today upon the Nazis' whole Stalingrad salient.

Despite desperate German resistance in an effort to keep open a corridor of reinforcement or escape to the long-besieged Volga bastion, the Russians reported new gains to maintain their average of six to 12 miles a day northwest of Stalingrad and nine to 12 miles a day southwest of the city.

Deepest Push
The deepest reported penetration was at Chernyshevskaya on the Chir river, 125 miles west of Stalingrad and 75 miles west of Kalach, the railroad town on the Don bend which the Russians seized over the weekend.

Chernyshevskaya is some 40 miles southeast of Kletska, the Don river citadel 100 miles northwest of Stalingrad which the Nazis overran in their fall drive toward the Volga. Now German holding positions at Kletska are menaced from two sides, since the Russians also are on the offensive in the Serafimovich, 30 miles farther up the Don.

Southwest of Stalingrad the Russians were pushing along the rail line which leads from Stalingrad across the bleak Malmuk steppe into the northern Caucasus. They reported driving on after taking Akai in a 10-mile advance from Abganerova, 40 miles southwest of Stalingrad.

Retake Towns

The regular midday communiqué did not name any of the towns captured through the night but said that "our units occupied a number of populated places" northwest of Stalingrad, indicating that the Axis forces that have been battering at that city for three months were in growing danger of encirclement.

The Russians were reported to have driven one prong of the two-pronged offensive as far as 125 miles northwest of Stalingrad.

Siege-toughened defenders of Stalingrad helped themselves, too, clearing the Germans from 17 blockhouses, killing 250 and capturing two guns and an assortment of smaller arms, the communiqué said.

RADIO PROGRAMS

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Information Please, which, in its 4½ years on the air, never seemed to acquire that microphone wanderlust of touring the country as has many another program, is going to break its own precedent. It actually is going out of town.

Beginning December 4 it will make at least one broadcast a month outside of New York, starting at Boston. The series will be on behalf of war bond sales.

Unlike at Radio City, where the program uses a small studio because it is considered more adaptable to the ad lib nature of the non-script broadcast, the out-of-town pickups will originate from large theaters and auditoriums. And in keeping with the purpose of the visits, studio tickets will be issued only to those who purchase a war bond at the same time.

The only time that Information Please has been outside Radio City heretofore was the occasion of a reunion of guest experts broadcast from a hotel ball-room in New York.

Military Funeral On Thursday For Sergeant Brady

A military funeral will be conducted on Thursday morning for Sergeant Francis H. Brady, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl T. Brady, Edge Grove, one of six men who lost their lives when a light Army bomber crashed while taking off from the Morrison Field headquarters of the Army Air Transport Command's Caribbean Wing, Friday morning. The young man was a radio operator.

The parents of Sergeant Brady were notified Monday by Army officials at West Palm Beach, Fla., where Morrison Field is located, that their son's body, accompanied by a staff sergeant serving as a military escort, will arrive in York by train on Wednesday morning at 10:50 a. m. It will be taken from York to the Brady home by J. T. Kernan, McSherrytown funeral director.

The funeral will be held on Thursday morning with a solemn high mass of requiem at 10 o'clock in Conewago Chapel, the Very Rev. John F. O'Donnell, rector. The celebrant will be the Rev. Carl Brady, principal of York Catholic high school, an uncle of the young man. The other officers of the mass have not yet been named.

The color guard, firing squad, bugler and officers for the military service are being provided by Hanover Post, No. 2506, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Harold H. Bair Post, No. 14, American Legion, Hanover.

OPPOSE 3-GALLON LIMIT

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—A delegation of Pittsburgh businessmen arranged to call at the Office of Price Administration headquarters today to protest against proposed basic gasoline rations of three gallons per week in western Pennsylvania. The group has asked a four-gallon-weekly basic ration, contending that comparatively large gasoline supplies are available in the oil-producing region.

25TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The Misses Marie and Gertrude Andrew, Orrtanna R. D., entertained a number of friends and relatives at a party last Friday evening in honor of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Andrew, who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on November 22.

DR. THORNING

the direction of Miss Dorothy M. Brindle, a member of the Soroptimist club and supervisor of music in the Gettysburg public schools.

The program opened with "America" and the pledge of allegiance with Miss Mary Ramer, first president and now secretary of the Soroptimists, presiding. She served in the place of the president, Mrs. Henrietta Blocher, who was ill and unable to be present.

Greetings Expressed
The invocation was given by the Rev. Ralph E. Gresh, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, and the Soroptimists sang their "Welcome" song. Miss Ramer read a letter of greeting from Mrs. Blocher and then she presented Judge Sheely.

Paul A. Kinsey, president of the Gettysburg Rotary club, and William A. Beales, Lions president, brought brief greetings as did Miss Esther Tipton, president of the Business and Professional Women's club. The Rev. Fr. Mark E. Stock, rector of St. Francis Xavier Catholic church, offered his congratulations and best wishes to the Soroptimists.

Doctor Thorning's address followed. On the basis of extensive travels on this hemisphere, he observed that "the 21 republics of North, Central and South America and Canada form a family of nations with many similarities and several striking differences—all of them very significant."

Geographical Features Important
He stressed the importance of the effects of geographical features—extreme climates, high altitudes and widely varied agricultural possibilities in a single nation—upon the national life in the South American continent. Mixed races help make the art of self-government difficult and perplexing, he said.

Economically, the cream of the products of many of those countries is siphoned off by foreign interests while the South Americans get along on an average annual income of less than $100. Land forms a basic problem in South America and many situations connected with it "will be soluble only by a great amount of planning and spiritual good will," he declared.

Describing the Chileans as the "Yankees" of South America, Doctor Thorning expressed the belief that Chile's 2,000-mile unprotected coastline is a factor in making the country hesitate to make an overt, hostile act against the Axis. Neither the Axis or the Allies can hurry Chile and Argentina into a decision on the war, he said, but predicted final action favorable to the Allied nations.

H. S. Chorus Sings
The high school chorus sang "Service" by Charles Wakefield Cadman; "Your Land and My Land," by Sigmund Romberg; "My Heart Is a Silent Violin," by O. J. Fox; "Stout Hearted Men," by Romberg, and "Thanks be to God," by Stanley Dixon. There was a trumpet solo, "Russian Fantasy," by William Ogden and a vocal solo, "Three for Jack" by Ross Sachs, both members of the chorus.

Mrs. Oscar Shaw, who was at the speakers' table, was introduced and then her husband who sang and spoke briefly. Miss Mary Clare Myers was accompanist for the evening.

The assembly sang "God Bless America" and the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Fr. Stock after Miss Ramer had acknowledged a birthday basket of flowers from the Lions and Rotarians and invited the men's organizations to return for the birthday celebration in 1943.

Auxiliary Will Decorate Rooms, Wards At Hospital

Members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Warner hospital will decorate patients' rooms and the wards for the Christmas holidays, it was decided at the November meeting which was conducted at the Nurses' home on Monday afternoon. Mrs. A. A. Hughes was made chairman of the decorating committee.

The Auxiliary has asked the Caroline Codori Girl Scout troop to make special favors for patients' Christmas dinner trays. At a meeting of the Scout troop Monday evening the girls made Thanksgiving favors for the hospital patients also.

The Auxiliary at a cost of $212.25 has placed cubical curtains in both wards at the hospital for closing off the beds of individual patients. The curtains, ordered some time ago, are now in use.

A detailed report was submitted on the success of the annual food drive for the hospital in Gettysburg which in addition to generous quantities of foodstuffs collected $112.43 in cash. Plans are being made for pushing the annual food collection in other county communities as soon as possible. Littlestown and Fairfield already have submitted reports on their collections.

Mrs. LeRoy H. Winebrenner, Auxiliary president, named this nominating committee with instructions to report at the annual organization meeting and tea to be held January 25; Mrs. G. Richard Eisenhart, Mrs. Henry M. Scharf and Mrs. Edith Herph.

UNDECIDED ON TRIAL OF BOY FOR MATRICIDE

York, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP)—District Attorney W. Burg Anstine said today decision on whether to bring William A. Jackson, 17, to trial on a charge of slaying his mother would depend upon the report of a psychiatrist who examined the boy for three hours yesterday.

Young Jackson, who Anstine said admitted stabbing his mother to death and dismembering her body with an axe, is in the York hospital for treatment of burns he allegedly received while trying to cremate the body.

Anstine had planned to take the youth to his isolated farm home today for a reenactment of the crime, but Jackson's condition prohibited his removal from the hospital.

The youth was charged with murder in the first degree after his father found Mrs. Jackson's head, legs and arms in a burlap bag and her torso in a small building on the family farm near here on Saturday.

The reenactment will take place, Anstine said, as soon as young Jackson recovers from third degree burns which the district attorney said he received in an explosion when he attempted to set fire to the body with gasoline.

Anstine said he confessed killing her because she nagged him. "I hated her and always hated her," the district attorney quoted him as saying.

Anstine said details of the crime were not clear and that his office, in preparing its case against the youth, needed to know the sequence of events from the time Mrs. Jackson was stabbed 40 times with a butcher knife until her husband, returning from work in York, discovered the body.

Mrs. Jackson, who was 41, was the mother of eight other children.

NO THANKSGIVING MAIL DELIVERIES

There will not be any city or rural deliveries of mail from the Gettysburg post office on Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, Postmaster C. A. Williams announced today. There will be one city collection of mail between 5:30 and 6:30 o'clock but only special delivery packages and letters will be delivered.

The post office lobby will be open from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. but there will not be any window service.

Local and county banks will observe the holiday as will the offices at the court house.

Gettysburg public schools will have a two-day vacation with classes ending Wednesday afternoon until Monday morning. Pupils at the Gettysburg parochial school also follow that schedule.

Gettysburg college students will get only a one-day respite from classes. At the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary students will not have classes from Wednesday afternoon until next Monday.

Hanover Shoe Gives Up Harness Racing

Hanover, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP)—The Hanover Shoe Farms announced today discontinuance of its stable of harness race horses and a spokesman said the farms would be devoted exclusively to breeding trotters and pacers for sale.

The Hanover racing stable was established in 1925 and has turned out several winners of the Hambletonian, biggest event of harness racing, the last one, Bill Gallon, in 1941.

The farms turn out 80 to 100 yearlings each year. For the last six months, L. B. Sheppard, manager of the farms, has been a consultant in the War Production Board on shoes and shoe leather. He is now attending the Army's general staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., on Army organization and procedure.

250,000 Jews Are Executed By Gestapo

London, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Polish government-in-exile asserted today that Heinrich Himmler, Nazi Gestapo chief, had ordered the extermination of one-half of the Jewish population of Poland by the end of this year and that 250,000 had been killed through September under that program.

"According to information leaking from the German labor office (Arbeitsamt), only 40,000 Jews are to remain in the Warsaw Ghetto—only thoroughly skilled workers to be employed in the German war industry," a government statement said.

"The most convincing proof of the dwindling numbers in the Ghetto lies in the fact that for September, 1942, 130,000 ration cards were printed, for October, the number issued was only 40,000."

ALLIES FIGHT

tween Una and Gona, the last points of resistance seemed to be at Buna and at Sanananda. American troops were reported fighting yesterday at Buna mission, a mile from the town and it was apparent that the Japanese foothold there and at Sanananda could be no more than two or three miles deep, at best.

While the ground forces were shoving the enemy out of one of his best bases for potential invasion of Australia, Allied airmen gave continuing attention to Japanese-held bases on Portuguese Timor which lies threateningly northwest of the island continent. Attack planes and medium bombers raided Bece and Raimean, the commune said.

Sales Of Explosives' Ingredients Permitted

Lee M. Hartman, county prothonotary, through whose office federal licenses for handling dynamite and other explosives are issued in this county, has been advised that ingredients of explosives, among which is saltpeter, are now permitted to be sold in quantities of four ounces or less without an explosive license. The sales may be made to persons who are considered reliable, provided they do not intend to use it to make explosives, without being required to take out an explosive license.

Finish Re-Surfacing Of Buford Avenue

Widening and surfacing of the west end of Buford avenue has been completed by workmen under the direction of J. William Kendeheart, state highway maintenance superintendent for Adams county. The work was started in October, but was delayed until sections of curbing were placed. Bad weather also interfered.

The street was surfaced for a distance of 1,025 feet with a bituminous material similar to that used in the re-surfacing of Chambersburg street and the eastern part of Buford avenue previously. The work included the placing of base stone in the former berms and the surfacing of the street to a width of 36 feet.

NOW IN NAVY

Charles Price Oyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oyler, York street, enlisted in the United States Navy last week at Philadelphia. He is now stationed at Bainbridge, Maryland, where he is a second assistant pharmacist's mate. Since graduating from Gettysburg high school in 1941 he had been working with a state surveying corps out of Harrisburg.

DEATHS

Mrs. W. D. Nau
Mrs. Alverta L. Nau, 77, wife of William D. Nau, died at her home on West King street, Littlestown, Sunday night at 10:30 o'clock. Death followed an extended illness.

The deceased was a daughter of the late Elias and Margaret (Basehoar) Mayers. She was a lifelong and active member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, Littlestown. Mrs. Nau taught in the Sunday school for many years, was a former member of the choir, was church organist at one time, and was a member of the Ladies' Missionary society of the church.

Surviving are her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Marvin Formwalt, Hanover; two grandchildren and a brother, John D. Mayers, Littlestown. Funeral on Wednesday with services at 2:30 o'clock at the J. W. Little & Son funeral home, Littlestown, the Rev. D. S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's church, and the Rev. Theodore W. Boltz, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church, Littlestown, officiating. Interment in Mt. Carmel cemetery, Littlestown. Friends may call at the funeral home this evening between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Ellen Jane Mumma
Mrs. Ellen Jane Mumma, 84, Harrisburg, died Monday at her residence.

Mrs. Mumma was the widow of Jacob A. Mumma and was a resident of the Harrisburg community more than thirty years. She was a member of Zion Lutheran church and the Pastors' Laid League.

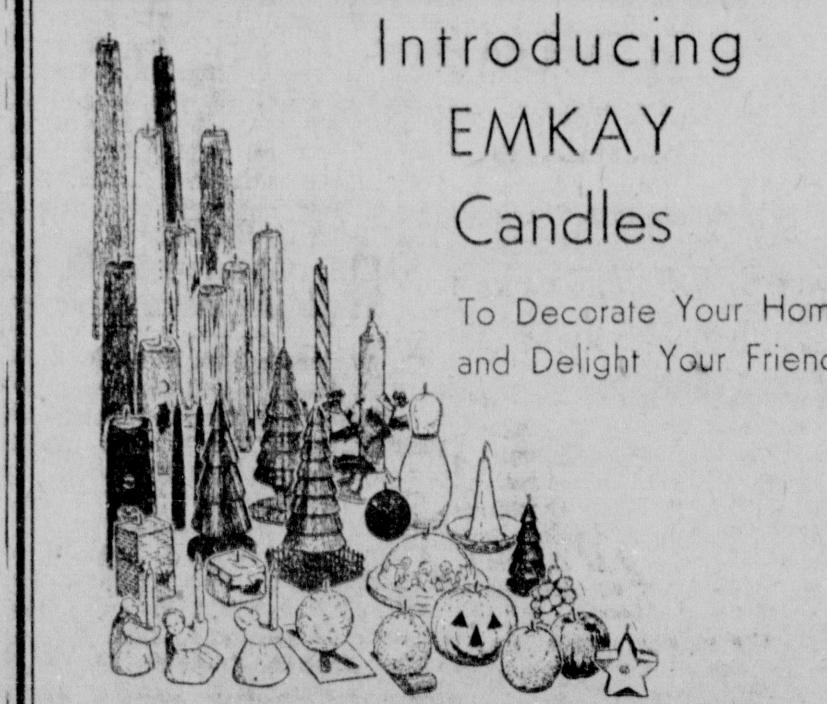

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. J. I. Beisel, Harrisburg; two sons, Edgar C. Mumma, Paxtonia, and John J. Mumma, Gettysburg. Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Friday at the Dugan funeral home, 1600 Market street, Harrisburg. The Rev. Dr. S. W. Herman, of Zion Lutheran church, will officiate. Burial will be in Sheep's Church cemetery. Friends may call between 7 and 9 o'clock Thursday night at the funeral home.

BUCKEYES IN THIRD PLACE GEORGIA FIFTH

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—It took a little time, a little patience and a little help from Auburn, but Boston College finally made the grade and today the unbeaten, untied Eagles are the class of the nation's college football teams, according to poll 51 out of 50 by Associated Press poll.

No better than third in any of the previous weekly polls, the Eagles took over the top spot after Georgia's Bulldogs, first-place choice for the past month, were bounced from the unbeaten ranks by Auburn Saturday, 27-13.

Given More Firsts

Georgia Tech, runner-up to the Bulldogs in recent weeks and logical successor to the throne, missed the No. 1 rating by a matter of 34 points and remained in second place, although the Engineers polled more first-place votes than Boston's Eagles.

After spilling Florida, 20-7, for its ninth straight win, Tech was listed first on 50 ballots while only 47 sports voted the lead to a Boston college club that trampled Boston university, 37-0, for its eighth in a row. However, the Eagles drew 50 second-place votes to 36 for Tech and wound up with 1,078 points, compared with 1,044 for the Engineers.

The standings of the top ten teams (first-place votes in parentheses, points figured on 10-9-8 etc. basis):

1. Boston College (17).....1,078
2. Georgia Tech (30).....1,044
3. Ohio State (16).....994
4. Wisconsin (12).....694
5. Georgia (2).....616
6. Tulsa (1).....577
7. Alabama.....288
8. Notre Dame.....281
9. Michigan.....279
10. Tennessee.....197

Sixty-eight of the 69 voters who named Georgia first a week ago hopped off the Bulldog bandwagon.

Buckeyes Climb

Ohio State, a notch behind fourth-place Michigan last week, gained prestige and the Big Ten title by clipping the Wolverines, 21-7. With 16 first-place votes, the Buckeyes moved into third place as Michigan dropped to ninth.

Wisconsin, in seventh place last two weeks, jumped to fourth and Tulsa, the only team in the group besides Boston and Georgia Tech to boast an all-victorious record, remained in sixth place.

The second ten in the rankings: 11—UCLA, 38; tie for 12—Santa Clara and Stanford, 72 each; 14—Southern California, 34; 15—Washington State (1), 29; tie for 16—Auburn and Mississippi State, 20 each; 18—Texas, 19; 19—William and Mary, 17; 20—Minnesota, 16.

Want President To Defer Gas Rationing

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—A bipartisan congressional bloc was reported unofficially Monday to be pinning its hopes for postponement of nation-wide gasoline rationing upon the possibility of intervention by President Roosevelt.

Likelihood increased that the group would appeal directly to the White House for a delay even as the chance that Congress would pass legislation diminished.

Members of the bloc—largely composed of congressmen from the western oil-producing states—conceded freely there was little possibility that legislation could be whipped into shape to postpone the rationing order before the December 1 deadline.

Out of a meeting of a committee representing that group came indirect intimations of the plan to lay the case before the President and ask for a delay of at least a month in order to reopen a study of the entire gasoline situation.

Be On Alert For Charity Rackets

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—Pennsylvania has been warned to be on the alert against "charity racketeers" during the holiday season.

Secretary E. Arthur Sweeney of the state Department of Welfare said the public should not contribute to any alleged charity unless the solicitor can show authorization from his department.

"The good citizen should promptly notify police if the solicitor is unable to show such authorization," he said. "This means that the best form of racketeering must be stopped."

UPHOLDS TEACHER'S DISMISSAL

Philadelphia, Nov. 24 (AP)—The State Supreme court Monday upheld the dismissal of an Ambridge, Pa., junior high school teacher who gave birth to a child while on sabbatical leave. The court, in a 4-3 decision, sustained an order of Beaver county court in an appeal by Mrs. Kathryn P. Snyder. The dismissal previously had been upheld by the state superintendent of public instruction.

Beazley Voted Valuable Rookie

Chicago, Nov. 24 (AP)—Johnny Beazley, St. Louis Cardinals pitcher, has been chosen the most valuable rookie of 1942 and two of his mates, Stan Musial and George Kucukowski, placed fourth and sixth, respectively, in the selections.

Beazley received 192 votes, 56 more than runnerup Johnny Pesky of the Boston Red Sox, in a poll of the Chicago chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Vernon Stephens of the St. Louis Browns was third and Tex Hughson of the Red Sox fifth.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 21 (AP)—Heard at the listening post: A William and Mary supporter can blame himself for what those North Carolina Pre-Flight footballers did to the previously unbeaten Indians last Saturday.

... he went around to the Cloudbusters' hotel that morning with a wad of dough to bet and by the time Jimmy Crowley got around to giving his athletes a pep talk, they told him, "Coach, we have to win." ... Michigan may raise the "take" from the fair grounds horse-race bettors from 7 1/2 per cent to 10 per cent, giving the racing association an extra half per cent, or about $20,000 in an ordinary season.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE

Lon Stiner, Oregon State grid coach: "Monday morning quarter-backs aren't nearly as tough on losing coaches this year; they're too busy second-guessing the generals and admirals."

Clair Bee, Long Island U. basketball player: "Frankly, I can't tell my freshmen apart. They all look alike—discouraging."

Steve Owen, master-mind of the New York Football Giants: "The best way to stop Don Hutson is to let him catch a pass in the end zone. Then he can't catch another until they get the ball again."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

The Harvard football team met the transportation shortage by getting a special street car to ride out to the Yale bowl last Saturday, but it had the usual escort of motorcycle cops—just in case some Yale boys might try to have some fun.

... and in eastern Idaho, basketball teams that have only short trips between towns plan to travel via horse-drawn sleighs.

Skipper Baxter, one of the stars of the ice show in Radio City's center theatre, is such a hockey fan that he slips into the Garden to see the Rangers play the first period when dashes out to make his 9:30 appearance on stage.

Henry Thomas, who won the Hambleton with Shirley Hanover in 1937 and McLin Hanover in 1938, starts next week as trainer for R. H. Johnston, owner of Bill Gullon, 1941 winner of the buggy whip derby, and Pay Up, who finished second last year.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Tommy Fitzgerald, Louisville Courier-Journal: "For pronunciation's sake, we hope Football Coach Frnka of Tulsa U. makes his letter his year. Frnka looks like a name that has shifted from a six-man to a five-man line."

A versatile soldier is Andy Gaspar, former Pittsburgh golf pro now stationed at Herbert Smart airport, Macon, Georgia. Besides playing golf in the low 70's, Andy pitches or the softball team, plays basketball in the football team and won his first bout on the boxing team.

The North Carolina Pre-Flight football team has lost a dozen players, including Hovey Seymour and Bob Hood, within the past few weeks and Joe Martin departs for advanced training tomorrow. Instead of suffering a broken jaw in the Manhattan game, as some papers reported, Martin got nothing worse than a sprained hand. The jaw must have belonged to the other guy.

RACK OF THE WEEK

Discussing his favorite sports gure, Lieut.-Comm. George Halas, Jimmy Conzelmann, the Chicago Cardinals' coach, moans: "You'd think a guy would be satisfied either to be rich or own the Bears. That Halas has everything."

Few Hunt Bear In Warm Season

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—Warm weather and fewer hunters resulted in what the game commission described as one of the poorest bear seasons in Pennsylvania in years.

Director Seth Gordon reported yesterday that a preliminary survey of eight northern tier counties disclosed only six bears killed during the four-day season which closed Saturday. Nearly 600 Black bears were killed in the state in 1941.

The average American farm horse is said to work only 70 ten-hour days a year.

"TURKEY DAY" GAMES DECIDE SCHOOL TITLES

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—Traditional Thanksgiving Day games, enhanced in some sections where conference championships are at stake, will climax Pennsylvania's scholastic football season Thursday.

Holiday encounters will determine the champions of the Big Fifteen, the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic league and the Northern division of the Eastern conference.

Bethlehem, showing a big lead in the Big Fifteen, clashes with Allentown. Bethlehem has the title nearly clinched but Allentown still has a mathematical chance.

New Castle and Aliquippa, both undefeated and untied, will tangle at Ambridge for the WPAL crown. The rivals were selected from among seven undefeated and untied elevens to play for the honor.

Seranton Central, leading the Northern division in the Eastern conference, needs a victory or a tie against Seranton Tech to claim the title and earn the right to meet Shenandoah, Southern division winner, for the conference championship. Should Tech upset Central, Kingston will be the divisional representative against Shenandoah December 5.

Other Contests

Elsewhere in the state, major games are scheduled between sectional rivals.

In the Western conference where 118 experts who voted in The Associated Press All-America football team will be announced Friday, December 11, Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press general sports editor, will write the story.

The eighteenth annual Associated Press All-America football team will be announced Friday, December 11. Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press general sports editor, will write the story.

The powerful Philipsburg, New Jersey, eleven invades Easton; John Harris and William Penn, both of Harrisburg meet; Hazle Township battles Hazleton; Shamokin goes to Mt. Carmel; Steelton to Williamsport and Northumberland to Sunbury.

Eastern conference games include Coal Township at Kulpmont, McAdoo at West Hazleton, Mahanoy City at Ashland, Blythe Township at Minersville, Lansford at Coaldeale and Hanover Township at Plains.

In the Philadelphia area, Germantown's city leaders invade Norristown, Coatesville plays Phoenixville and Swarthmore tangles with Lansdowne in featured games.

SPORT SHORTS

Philadelphia—Three of Penn's first-string backfield stars will be out of the starting lineup when the Quakers tackle Cornell here Thanksgiving Day.

Quarterback Dick Martin, who has an injured ankle, will be replaced by Jerry McCarthy, 200-pound sophomore, and Fullback Bert Stiff, nursing a bag leg, will be relieved by Bob Brundage, senior. Lee Pleitz is expected to get the assignment of another backfield ace, Jackie Welsh, out with a dislocated shoulder.

Philadelphia—Aldo Cenci, Italian-born fullback of Pennsylvania State college, received the outstanding player award of the Maxwell Memorial Football club yesterday.

Philadelphia—Earle L. Edwards, end coach at Penn State, says that "if football had a high commissioner like Judge Landis, I'd suggest that he freeze all existing football series for the duration."

"Then all of us could concentrate on playing the neighboring schools we've been ignoring for years," he said in a luncheon address here.

Philadelphia, Nov. 24 (AP)—An Army-ordered dimout of Philadelphia may mean the end of night baseball and football here for the duration.

The Army's regulations have not been announced in detail, but sports officials said they expected games to be affected.

"It will be a terrible financial blow," said Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics, "but whatever the Army wants we'll follow."

The A's drew an unofficial attendance of 152,834 in 14 night games last season.

Officials Offer Services For R.C.

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—Even the officials will work for nothing when Brooklyn college and C.C.N.Y. meet on the football field Thursday to play off a recent 7-7 tie. The four, who volunteered their services when the teams agreed to play a second game for the Red Cross, are Sam Giangreco of Manhattan, Bill Tewhill of Brown, Alton Mark of Tennessee and Cliff Montgomery, Columbia's Rose Bowl star of 1934.

For every five tons of new steel that American railroads use they return to the mills four tons of scrap.

LOOKING AROUND

By DON BREEM Sports Editor

The new edition of the Ice Follies which includes 28 separate acts, 11 of which are elaborate production sequences, will open at the Hershey Sports arena Saturday evening, December 12, and will run for one week, concluding on December 19.

This year the Follies includes 120 skaters as compared to a company of 85 a year ago. Heading the cast are the Shapovalov brothers and Johnson, Nora McCarthy, Canadian and North American Women's Senior champion, and Betty Atkinson, recruited from the ranks of Broadway musical comedy, are newcomers to the cast. Among the old favorites who will appear are Frick and Frack, Heinie Brock, Ruby and Bobby Maxson and Colson and Claude.

Last week the column picked 18 football winners, six were wrong and one game resulted in a tie. The season's totals are: 142 right; 63 wrong and 15 ties.

During the past season the Gettysburg college eleven outscored its opponents 135 to 70. The team made good on nine of 21 tries for the extra point. Since Coach "Hen" Bream took charge of the Bull eleven in 1927 his teams have won 76 games while losing 47. Nine games resulted in ties.

The eighteenth annual Associated Press All-America football team will be announced Friday, December 11. Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press general sports editor, will write the story.

BEARS TRYING FOR 6TH TITLE

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Chicago, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Chicago Bears will become the only team in major professional football history to win six national championships if they beat the Washington Redskins in the nation's capital December 13.

But if you think that's an incentive, what about the one the Redskins have? That 73-0 deluge the Bears poured on them two years ago never can be forgotten, but it can be reversed. And that's the stimulant which may make this playoff the toughest the national football league has seen. Washington already has had one shot at the Bears this season in an early exhibition, but lost 38 to 14.

The Bruins won the Western division title Sunday by giving the Detroit Lions their 10th straight defeat, 42 to 0—worst blanking of the season—while the New York Giants and Green Bay tied 21-all, removing any mathematical chance the Packers cherished of catching up. Washington moved in by dunking the Dodgers of Brooklyn 23 to 3 and will close its regular schedule at Detroit this Sunday.

Unbeaten in 22 consecutive games and averaging more than 34 points in each of nine straight league triumphs this fall, the Bears return to Wrigley Field to meet the Cleveland Rams, winding up the following week against the Chicago Cardinals.

Other Sunday contests send the Cards to New York, Green Bay to Philadelphia and Brooklyn to Pittsburgh.

Although held to a stalemate yesterday by the Giants, Green Bay contained to add up records with the pass-and-catch duo of Cecil Isbel and Don Hutson. Hutson snared two scoring spirals to break his jinx of never having scored on the Giants. The Pittsburgh Steelers defeated the Cardinals 19 to 3, making it the first time in six years they have won six league games in a season.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press) Baltimore—Alfred (Big Boy) Brown, 243, Detroit, outpointed Lou Brooks, 185½, Wilmington, Del. (15).

Holyoke, Mass.—Sal Bartola, 126 Boston, outpointed Dave Crawford 124, New York, (10).

Newark, N. J.—Marvin Bryant, 152 Dallas, Tex., outpointed Artie Levine, 156, Brooklyn, (6).

Chicago—Sammy Parratto, 155 Pittsburgh, Pa., and Al Gomez, 133½, Chicago, drew (8).

New York—Roman Alvarez, 137 New York, outpointed Bobby Ruffin 134½, New York (8).

Providence, R. I.—Jackie Callura 128, Hamilton, Ont., knocked out Tommy St. Angelo, 129½, New York (2).

Dukes Ready For Lakehurst Eleven

Pittsburgh, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Duquesne university Dukes came through their tough game against Villanova college last Sunday without any serious injuries and will be at full strength here Thanksgiving Day against the Lakehurst Naval Air Station.

Steve Sinko, assistant coach who scouted the service team last Saturday as it beat Muhlenberg 27 to 7 at Allentown, reported it was at peak condition with a pair of outstanding backfield stars, Jack Doolan, formerly of Georgetown, and Jack Danna, of the University of Southern California and later with the Philadelphia Eagle pros.

Lakehurst has beaten Penn Military college, Albright, Lafayette and Muhlenberg, lost to Princeton and Delaware and tied Maryland and Seranton U.

CAGE TALENT ADUNDANT AT GREAT LAKES

Great Lakes, Ill., Nov. 24 (AP)—It's not lack of basketball talent, but abundance of it that makes Lieut. Paul Hinkle's assignment of fitting together a Great Lakes sailor team this season a tough one.

From several thousand prospects who have starred in high schools or colleges, Hinkle must filter out about 14. He already has picked 17. Others will play in an intramural program designed to include nearly every boy at the naval training station.

Only two players are holdovers from last season's 14-man squad which won 31 of 36 games to become generally recognized as one of the country's best. The team was so popular that recruiting offices reported enlistment gains up to 30 per cent in areas it visited.

Open Season Dec. 1 Hinkle, who won fame with his quints at Butler university has found time between football coaching duties to round up a squad to open the schedule December 1 against the Milwaukee Teachers' college.

The roster includes George Ham-burg, Colorado; Forrest Sprowl and Charles Carress, Purdue; George Sobek, John Miller and Ed Riska, Notre Dame; Wilbur Schunacher and Bob Dietz, Butler; Gil Huffman, Tennessee; John Hofmann, Long Island; Pete Newell, Loyola, Los Angeles; Rudy Soderquist, Iowa; Bob Davies, Seton Hall; George Clamack, North Carolina; Dick Klein, Northwestern; Chet Air-buchon, Michigan State, and Forrest Anderson, Stanford.

Klein and Anderson were members of last year's team.

ENLISTMENTS FORBIDDEN TO SOME WORKERS

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—The government acted today to assure retention of a sufficient army of war workers on the home front by forbidding enlistment of essential aircraft and shipbuilding workers and expanding the list of necessary jobs to one out of every nine types.

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey announced that the Army and Navy will refuse to accept volunteers holding essential jobs in the aircraft and ship building industries as well as men who have resigned such jobs within 60 days before they apply for enlistment.

To protect those industries from a drain of necessary men, Hershey said he telegraphed every state that local draft boards should "refuse a release to any registrant who is, or should be, classified in II-B or III-B" and who is employed in the two industries.

Essential Jobs To guide local draft boards in determining which persons should have occupational deferment, the War Manpower Commission announced last night the preparation of a master list of essential war jobs containing about 3,000 of the nation's estimated 27,000 occupations.

The list expands the types of jobs specified in earlier classifications by defining more precisely the general job titles previously cited as vital to war production.

Meantime, War Manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt expressed belief that civilians rather than military authorities should decide on the division of manpower between the military services and civilian industry.

"Isn't it more reasonable," he asserted at a press conference yesterday, "that civilians would weigh in the demands of the civilian economy as well as the demands of the military?"

Hershey said his new instructions did not constitute a blanket deferment of aircraft and shipbuilding employees, and added that they would "continue to be called for military service as they are needed and as they can be replaced in essential jobs."

Maintain War Work

The intention, he declared, was to prevent a drain on the two war industries which might cripple some

Letters To The Editor

The Gettysburg Times,

Dear Sirs:

Many's the time I remember my former pupils at Lincoln school and Gettysburg High and long for those good old days. But my pupils now are grown men and the subjects taught are strangely different from english, spelling and history. But all pupils, whether young or mature, are much alike, and I find that kindness and words of encouragement go a long way to help them grasp the instruction.

I have been watching with interest and delight the splendid progress and fine showing that the athletes of G. H. S. and Lincoln school are making under their excellent coaches and my good friends, Mr. Forney and Mr. Ullrich. I never fail to boast about the wearers of Maroon and White and Green and White and their great record.

Wish I could be back "in harness," teaching once more and making my annual New Year's resolution not to assign so much homework.

See you all after the war is over, and we come marching home again.

FIRST LT. JACOB M. SHEADS, Commanding Officer, Company "F", 103rd Division, Camp Claiborne, Louisiana.

The Gettysburg Times,

Dear Sirs:

I wish to extend to the Gettysburg Times and all of its staff hearty congratulations for the many pleasant moments that they have furnished to men in the Armed Forces simply by furnishing copies of your more than welcome newspaper to those who are situated in all corners of the globe.

Ever since entering the Army almost two years ago and all that period of time being stationed fairly close to home, I still look forward to receiving the news from home through the medium of your paper. I find that that old adage, "You never appreciate home until you are plants if not controlled. He reported that local boards had been directed to call such workers "gradually, if they can be replaced, so as not to interfere with war production."

The list of jobs which the WMC considers essential to the war effort includes: production of aircraft and parts, metal mining, leather products production, transportation equipment production, technical, scientific and management services.

away from it" is true, but The Gettysburg Times helps to keep that old saying from becoming too much a reality.

It seems hard to realize when reading the various editions of your paper that many men whom I have known personally are now many miles away and in the thick of things and it all adds up to the sad realism that this is war and that they and the rest of us are striving to do our utmost to win this war and return to our home communities after peace has been acquired.

Here at the Proving Ground I am assigned to the Officer Candidate school as an instructor. I might say at this point that when these men complete this course you can bet your last dollar that they are good leaders. The training, academic, military and technical, is the best and in order to successfully complete the course, each candidate must have a thorough knowledge of each subject in order to win those coveted goal bars as 2nd lieutenants.

Aside from teaching combat tactics, the Ordnance department has a much larger job, that of keeping the Garand rifles, firing the machine guns sputtering, the artillery pieces in fighting condition, the tanks rolling and supply ammunition to all of the fighting arms, including the Air corps. These men must be well specialized in any one of these fields beside having a thorough knowledge of Army administration and leadership. Unless these officer candidates grasp and hold this information, they do not become officers in the Ordnance department. These officers have already proven their worthiness in battle conditions and may they continue to do so!

LT. STANLEY C. SETTLE, Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Maryland

HITS "PAY" SAND

Irwin, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP)—That silver lining finally has shown through a dark cloud of smoke for farmer Duff Strugeon. He lost his cattle, crops and machinery last January in a fire which destroyed his barn. But drillers on Strugeon's farm last week struck "pay" sand 2390 feet down and today it was estimated 1,500,000 cubic feet of Natural gas was pouring from the well.

Ohio State, a notch behind fourth-place Michigan last week, gained prestige and the Big Ten title by clipping the Wolverines, 21-7. With 16 first-place votes, the Buckeyes moved into third place as Michigan dropped to ninth.

Wisconsin, in seventh place the last two weeks, jumped to fourth and Tulsa, the only team in the group besides Boston and Georgia Tech to boast an all-victorious record, remained in sixth place.

The second ten in the rankings: 11—UCLA, 88; tie for 12—Santa Clara and Stanford, 72 each; 14—Southern California, 34; 15—Washington State (1), 29; tie for 16—Auburn and Mississippi State, 20 each; 18—Texas, 19; 19—William and Mary, 17; 20—Minnesota, 16.

Want President To Defer Gas Rationing

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—A bipartisan congressional bloc was reported unofficially Monday to be pinning its hopes for postponement of nation-wide gasoline rationing upon the possibility of intervention by President Roosevelt.

Likelihood increased that the group would appeal directly to the White House for a delay even as the chance that Congress would pass stop legislation diminished.

Members of the bloc—largely composed of congressmen from the western oil-producing states—conceded freely there was little possibility that legislation could be whipped into shape to postpone the rationing order before the December 1 deadline.

Out of a meeting of a committee representing that group came indirect intimations of the plan to lay the case before the President and ask for a delay of at least a month in order to reopen a study of the entire gasoline situation.

Be On Alert For Charity Rackets

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—Pennsylvania has been warned to be on the alert against "charity rackets" during the holiday season.

Secretary E. Arthur Sweeney of the state Department of Welfare said the public should not contribute to any alleged charity unless the solicitor can show authorization from his department.

"The good citizen should promptly notify police if the solicitor is unable to show such authorization," he said. "This meanest and cheap est form of racketeering must be stopped."

UPHOLDS TEACHER'S DISMISSAL

Philadelphia, Nov. 24 (AP)—The State Supreme court Monday upheld the dismissal of an Ambridge, Pa., junior high school teacher who gave birth to a child while on sabbatical leave. The court, in a 4-3 decision, sustained an order of Beaver county court in an appeal by Mrs. Kathryn F. Snyder. The dismissal previously had been upheld by the state superintendent of public instruction.

Beazley Voted Valuable Rookie

Chicago, Nov. 24 (AP)—Johnny Beazley, St. Louis Cardinals pitcher, has been chosen the most valuable rookie of 1942 and two of his mates, Stan Musial and George Kuroski, placed fourth and sixth, respectively, in the selections.

Beazley received 192 votes, 56 more than runner-up Johnny Pesky of the Boston Red Sox, in a poll of the Chicago chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America. Vernon Stephens of the St. Louis Browns was third and Tex Hughson of the Red Sox fifth.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—Heard at the listening post: A William and Mary supporter can blame himself for what those North Carolina Pre-Flight footballers did to the previously unbeaten Indians last Saturday. . . . he went around to the Cloudbusters' hotel that morning with a wad of dough to bet and by the time Jimmy Crowley got around to giving his athletes a pep talk, they told him, "Coach, we have to win." . . . Michigan may raise the "take" from the fair grounds horse-race bettors from 7 1/2 per cent to 10 per cent, giving the racing association an extra half per cent, or about $80,000 in an ordinary season.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE

Lon Stiner, Oregon State grid coach: "Monday morning quarterbacking aren't nearly as tough on losing coaches this year; they're too busy second-guessing the generals and admirals."

Clair Bee, Long Island U. basketball pilot: "Frankly, I can't tell my freshmen apart. They all look alike—discouraging."

Steve Owen, master-mind of the New York Football Giants: "The best way to stop Don Hutson is to let him catch a pass in the end zone. Then he can't catch another until they get the ball again."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

The Harvard football team met the transportation shortage by getting a special street car to ride out to the Yale bowl last Saturday, but it had the usual escort of motorcycle cops—just in case some Yale boys might try to have some fun. . . . and in eastern Idaho, basketball teams that have only short trips between towns plan to travel via horse-drawn sleighs. . . . Skipper Baxter, one of the stars of the ice show in Radio City's center theatre, is such a hockey fan that he slips into the Garden to see the Rangers play the first period when dashes out to make his 9:30 appearance on stage. . . . Henry Thomas, who won the Hambletonian with Shirley Hanover in 1937 and McLin Hanover in 1938, starts next week as trainer for R. H. Johnston, owner of Bill Galton, 1941 winner of the buggy whip derby, and Pay Up, who finished second last year."

Tommy Fitzgerald, Louisville Courier-Journal: "For pronunciation's sake, we hope Football Coach Frink of Tulsa U. makes his letter his year. Frink looks like a name that has shifted from a six-man to a five-man line."

SPORT SHORTS

Philadelphia—Three of Penn's first-string backfield stars will be out of the starting lineup when the Quakers tackle Cornell here Thanksgiving Day.

Quarterback Dick Martin, who has an injured ankle, will be replaced by Jerry McCarthy, 200-pound sophomore, and Fullback Bert Stiff, nursing a bag leg, will be relieved by Bob Brundage, senior. Lee Pleitz is expected to get the assignment of another backfield ace, Jackie Welsh, out with a dislocated shoulder.

SERVICE DEPT.

A versatile soldier is Andy Gaspar, former Pittsburgh golfer now stationed at Herbert Smart airport, Macon, Georgia. . . . besides playing golf in the low 70's, Andy pitches or the softball team, plays halfback in the football team and won his first bout on the boxing team. . . . The North Carolina Pre-Flight football team has lost a dozen players, including Hovey Seymour and Bob Hood, within the past few weeks and Joe Martin departs for advanced training tomorrow. . . . Instead of suffering a broken jaw in the Manhattan game, as some papers reported, Martin got nothing worse than a sprained hand. . . . the jaw must have belonged to the other guy.

RACK OF THE WEEK

Discussing his favorite sports gure, Lieut.-Comm. George Halas, Jimmy Conzelmann, the Chicago Cardinals' coach, moans: "You'd think a guy would be satisfied either to be rich or own the Bears. That takes has everything."

Few Hunt Bear In Warm Season

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—Warm weather and fewer hunters resulted in what the game commission described as one of the poorest bear seasons in Pennsylvania in years.

Director Seth Gordon reported yesterday that a preliminary survey of eight northern tier counties disclosed only six bears killed during the four-day season which closed Saturday. Nearly 600 Black bears were killed in the state in 1941.

The average American farm horse is said to work only 70 ten-hour days a year.

"TURKEY DAY" GAMES DECIDE SCHOOL TITLES

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—Traditional Thanksgiving Day games, enhanced in some sections where conference championships are at stake, will climax Pennsylvania's scholastic football season Thursday.

Holiday encounters will determine the champions of the Big Fifteen, the Western Pennsylvania Inter-scholastic Athletic league and the Northern division of the Eastern conference.

Bethlehem, showing a big lead in the Big Fifteen, clashes with Allentown. Bethlehem has the title nearly clinched but Allentown still has a mathematical chance.

New Castle and Alliquippa, both undefeated and untied, will tangle at Ambridge for the WPAL crown. The rivals were selected from seven undefeated and untied eleven to play for the honor.

Scranton Central, leading the Northern division in the Eastern conference, needs a victory or a tie against Scranton Tech to claim the title and earn the right to meet Shenandoah, Southern division winner, for the conference championship. Should Tech upset Central, Kingston will be the divisional representative against Shenandoah December 5.

Other Contests
Elsewhere in the state, major games are scheduled between sectional rivals.

In the Western conference where 118 experts who voted in The Astor-straight crown, Huntington goes to Mt. Union, Osceola Mills plays Phillipsburg and Jersey Shore travels to Look Haven.

The powerful Phillipsburg, New Jersey, eleven invades Easton; John Harris and William Penn, both of Harrisburg meet; Hazle Township battles Hazleton; Shamokin goes to Mt. Carmel; Steelton to Williamsport and Northumberland to Sunbury.

Eastern conference games include Coal Township at Kulpmont, Mead at West Hazleton, Mahanoy City at Ashland, Bythe Township at Minersville, Lansford at Coaldale and Hanover Township at Plains.

In the Philadelphia area, Germantown's city leaders invade Norristown, Coatesville plays Phoenixville and Swarthmore tangles with Lansdowne in featured games.

Philadelphia—Aldo Cenci, Italian-born fullback of Pennsylvania State college, received the outstanding player award of the Maxwell Memorial Football club yesterday.

Philadelphia—Earle L. Edwards, end coach at Penn State, says that "if football had a high commissioner like Judge Landis, I'd suggest that he freeze all existing football series for the duration."

"Then all of us could concentrate on playing the neighboring schools we've been ignoring for years," he said in a luncheon address here.

Officials Offer Services For R.C.

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—Even the officials will work for nothing when Brooklyn college and C.C.N.Y. meet on the football field Thursday to play off a recent 7-7 tie. The four, who volunteered their services when the teams agreed to play a second game for the Red Cross, are Sam Giangreco of Manhattan, Bill Tewhill of Brown, Alton Mark of Tennessee and Cliff Montgomery, Columbia's Rose Bowl star of 1934.

LOOKING AROUND

The new edition of the Ice Follies which includes 26 separate acts, 11 of which are elaborate production sequences, will open at the Hershey Sports arena Saturday evening, December 12, and will run for one week, concluding on December 19.

This year the Follies includes 120 skaters as compared to a company of 85 a year ago. Heading the cast are the Shipstead brothers and John, Nora McCarthy, Canadian and North American Women's Senior champion, and Betty Atkinson, recruited from the ranks of Broadway musical comedy, are newcomers to the cast. Among the old favorites who will appear are Frick and Frack, Heinie Brock, Ruby and Bobby Maxson and Colson and Claudet.

Last week the column picked 18 football winners, six were wrong and one game resulted in a tie. The season's totals are: 142 right; 63 wrong and 15 ties.

During the past season the Gettysburg college eleven outscored its opponents 135 to 70. The team made good on nine of 21 tries for the extra point. Since Coach "Hen" Bream took charge of the Bullet eleven in 1927 his teams have won 76 games while losing 47. Nine games resulted in ties.

The eighteenth annual Associated Press All-America football team will be announced Friday, December 11. Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press general sports editor, will write the story.

BEARS TRYING FOR 6TH TITLE

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Chicago, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Chicago Bears will become the only team in major professional football history to win six national championships if they beat the Washington Redskins in the nation's capital December 13.

But if you think that's an incentive, what about the one the Redskins have? That 73-0 deluge the bears poured on them two years ago never can be forgotten, but it can be avenged. And that's the stimulant which may make this playoff the toughest the national football league has seen. Washington already has had one shot at the Bears this season in an early exhibition, but lost 38 to 14.

The Bruins won the Western division title Sunday by giving the Detroit Lions their 10th straight defeat, 42 to 0—worst blanking of the season—while the New York Giants and Green Bay tied 21-21, removing any mathematical chance the Packers cherished of catching up. Washington moved in by dunking the Dodgers of Brooklyn 23 to 3 and will close its regular schedule at Detroit this Sunday.

Unbeaten in 22 consecutive games and averaging more than 34 points in each of nine straight league triumphs this fall, the Bears return to Wrigley Field to meet the Cleveland Rams, winding up the following week against the Chicago Cardinals.

Other Sunday contests send the Cards to New York, Green Bay to Philadelphia and Brooklyn to Pittsburgh.

Although held to a stalemate yesterday by the Giants, Green Bay contained to add up records with the pass-and-catch duo of Cecil Lobe and Don Hutson. Hutson snared two scoring spirals to break his jinx of never having scored on the Giants.

The Pittsburgh Steelers defeated the Cardinals 19 to 3, making it the first time in six years they have won six league games in a season.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Duquesne university Dukes came through their tough game against Villanova college last Sunday without any serious injuries and will be at full strength here Thanksgiving Day against the Lakehurst Naval Air Station.

Steve Sinko, assistant coach who scouted the service team last Saturday as it beat Muhlenberg 27 to 7 at Allentown, reported it was at peak condition with a pair of outstanding backfield stars, Jack Doolan, formerly of Georgetown, and Jack Banta, of the University of Southern California and later with the Philadelphia Eagle pros.

Lakehurst has beaten Penn Military college, Albright, Lafayette and Muhlenberg, lost to Princeton and Delaware and tied Maryland and Scranton U.

CAGE TALENT ADUNDANT AT GREAT LAKES

Great Lakes, Ill., Nov. 24 (AP)—It's not lack of basketball talent, but abundance of it that makes Lieut. Paul Hinkle's assignment of fitting together a Great Lakes sailor team this season a tough one.

From several thousand prospects who have starred in high schools or colleges, Hinkle must filter out about 14. He already has picked 17. Others will play in an intramural program designed to include nearly every boy at the naval training station.

Only two players are holdovers from last season's 14-man squad which won 31 of 36 games to become generally recognized as one of the country's best. The team was so popular that recruiting offices reported enlistment gains up to 30 per cent in areas it visited.

Open Season Dec. 1

Hinkle, who won fame with his quintets at Butler university has found time between football coaching duties to round up a squad to open the schedule December 1 against the Milwaukee Teachers' college.

The roster includes George Hamburg, Colorado; Forrest Sprowl and Charles Carress, Purdue; George Sobek, John Miller and Ed Riska, Notre Dame; Wilbur Schumacher and Bob Dietz, Butler; Gil Huffman, Tennessee; John Hofmann, Long Island; Pete Newell, Loyola, Los Angeles; Rudy Soderquist, Iowa; Bob Davies, Seton Hall; George Glanack, North Carolina; Dick Klein, Northwestern; Chet Aubuchon, Michigan State, and Forrest Anderson, Stanford.

Klein and Anderson were members of last year's team.

ENLISTMENTS FORBIDDEN TO SOME WORKERS

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—The government acted today to assure retention of a sufficient army of war workers on the home front by forbidding enlistment of essential aircraft and shipbuilding workers and expanding the list of necessary jobs to one out of every nine types.

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey announced that the Army and Navy will refuse to accept volunteers holding essential jobs in the aircraft and ship building industries as well as men who have resigned such jobs within 60 days before they apply for enlistment.

To protect those industries from a drain of necessary men, Hershey said he telegraphed every state that local draft boards should "refuse a release to any registrant who is, or should be, classified in II-B or III-B" and who is employed in the two industries.

Essential Jobs
To guide local draft boards in determining which persons should have occupational deferment, the War Manpower Commission announced last night the preparation of a master list of essential war jobs containing about 3,000 of the nation's estimated 27,000 occupations.

The list expands the types of jobs specified in earlier classifications by defining more precisely the general job titles previously cited as vital to war production.

Meantime, War Manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt expressed belief that civilians rather than military authorities should decide on the division of manpower between the military services and civilian industry.

"Isn't it more reasonable," he asserted at a press conference yesterday, "that civilians would weigh in the demands of the civilian economy as well as the demands of the military?"

Hershey said his new instructions did not constitute a blanket deferment of aircraft and shipbuilding employees, and added that they would "continue to be called for military service as they are needed and as they can be replaced in essential jobs."

Maintain War Work

The intention, he declared, was to prevent a drain on the two war industries which might cripple some

Letters To The Editor

The Gettysburg Times,
Dear Sirs:

Many's the time I remember my former pupils at Lincoln school and Gettysburg High and long for those good old days. But my pupils now are grown men and the subjects taught are strangely different from english, spelling and history. But all pupils, whether young or mature, are much alike, and I find that kindness and words of encouragement go a long way to help them grasp the instruction.

I have been watching with interest and delight the splendid progress and fine showing that the athletes of G. H. S. and Lincoln school are making under their excellent coaches and my good friends, Mr. Forney and Mr. Ullrich. I never fail to boast about the wearers of Maroon and White and Green and White and their great record.

Wish I could be back "in harness," teaching once more and making my annual New Year's resolution not to assign so much homework.

See you all after the war is over, and we come marching home again.
FIRST LT. JACOB M. SHEADS,
Commanding Officer,
Company "F", 103rd Division,
Camp Claiborne, Louisiana.

The Gettysburg Times,
Dear Sir:

I wish to extend to the Gettysburg Times and all of its staff hearty congratulations for the many pleasant moments that they have furnished to men in the Armed Forces simply by furnishing copies of your more than welcome newspaper to those who are situated in all corners of the globe.

Ever since entering the Army almost two years ago and all that period of time being stationed fairly close to home, I still look forward to receiving the news from home through the medium of your paper. I find that that old adage, "You never appreciate home until you are plants if not controlled. He reported that local boards had been directed to call such workers "gradually, if they can be replaced, so as not to interfere with war production."

The list of jobs which the WMC considers essential to the war effort includes: production of aircraft and parts, metal mining, leather products production, transportation equipment production, technical, scientific and management services.

away from it" is true, but The Gettysburg Times helps to keep that old saying from becoming too much a reality.

It seems hard to realize when reading the various editions of your paper that many men whom I have known personally are now many miles away and in the thick of things and it all adds up to the sad realism that this is war and that they and the rest of us are striving to do our utmost to win this war and return to our home communities after peace has been acquired.

Here at the Proving Ground I am assigned to the Officer Candidate school as an instructor. I might say at this point that when these men complete this course you can bet your last dollar that they are good leaders. The training, academic, military and technical, is the best and in order to successfully complete the course, each candidate must have a thorough knowledge of each subject in order to win those coveted goal bars as 2nd Lieutenants.

Aside from teaching combat tactics, the Ordnance department has a much larger job, that of keeping the Garand rifles, firing the machine guns sputtering, the artillery pieces in fighting condition, the tanks rolling and supply ammunition to all of the fighting arms, including the Air corps. These men must be well specialized in any one of these fields beside having a thorough knowledge of Army administration and leadership. Unless these officer candidates grasp and hold this information, they do not become officers in the Ordnance department. These officers have already proven their worthiness in battle conditions and may they continue to do so!

HITS "PAY" SAND

Irwin, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP)—That silver lining finally has shown through a dark cloud of smoke for farmer Duff Struon. He lost his cattle, crops and machinery last January in a fire which destroyed his barn. But drillers on Sturgeon's farm last week struck "pay" sand 2390 feet down and today it was estimated 1,500,000 cubic feet of Natural gas was pouring from the well.

Military Funeral
On Thursday For Sergeant Brady

A military funeral will be conducted on Thursday morning for Sergeant Francis H. Brady, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl T. Brady, Edge Grove, one of six men who lost their lives when a light Army bomber crashed while taking off from the Morrison Field headquarters of the Army Air Transport Command's Caribbean Wing, Friday morning. The young man was a radio operator.

The parents of Sergeant Brady were notified Monday by Army officials at West Palm Beach, Fla., where Morrison Field is located, that their son's body, accompanied by a staff sergeant serving as a military escort, will arrive in York by train on Wednesday morning at 10:50 a. m. It will be taken from York to the Brady home by J. T. Kernan, McSherrystown funeral director.

The funeral will be held on Thursday morning with a solemn high mass of requiem at 10 o'clock in Conewago Chapel, the Very Rev. John F. O'Donnell, rector. The celebrant will be the Rev. Carl Brady, principal of York Catholic high school, an uncle of the young man. The other officers of the mass have not yet been named.

The color guard, firing squad, bugler and officers for the military service are being provided by Hanover Post, No. 2596 Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Harold H. B. Post, No. 14, American Legion, Han-over.

Miss Betty Jane Snyder, Harris-burg, and Samuel Snyder, a student at Lehigh university, Bethlehem, spent the week-end with their par-ents, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Snyder, West Stevens street.

Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Ser-vice of the Methodist church which will be held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Dunning-Idis, Jr., 431 Baltimore street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ridinger, Cham-bersburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hemler, Baltimore, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carver, college campus, and Mrs. Lottie Ridinger, East Middle street.

Pvt. Mark Frazer, Atlantic City, New Jersey, spent the week-end here with his wife and mother, West High street.

Dr. and Mrs. William C. Baschore and son, William, Bethesda, Mary-land, were recent guests of Mrs. Baschore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Oyler, Chambersburg street. Ronald Weigle, Middletown, was a guest of the Oylers on Saturday and attended the Gettysburg-Dickinson football game.

Mrs. Edward J. Oliver, East Broad-way, will be the guest of honor at a tea which Mrs. Hunter Wyatt-Brown, Harrisburg, will give Tues-day, December 1, at "Bishop Court," her home in Harrisburg. Mrs. Ol-iver and Mrs. Wyatt-Brown were childhood friends in Montgomery, Alabama.

Mrs. Arthur C. Aiken entertained the members of the Acorn club Mon-day evening at her home on East Lincoln avenue. The next regular meeting will be held January 6 at the home of Miss Virginia Myers, York street. On December 16 the club will hold its annual Christmas party.

Miss Maude Whiteleather, Han-over street, is visiting friends in Reading.

Li and Mrs. Francis P. Krawczel, Quantico, Virginia, have left for Jacksonville, North Carolina, after spending a week with Mrs. Kraw-czel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter McIntyre, Carlisle street.

Mrs. Eva Boose, senior regent of the Women of the Moose of Han-over, will come here this evening for the first chapter meeting of the Get-tysburg chapter to be held at 8 o'clock at the Moose lodge home on York street. She will institute members who were absent at the time of the general induction cer-emony on Sunday, November 15.

Property Transfers

Frank Bishop, Cumberland town-ship, to Max Kertz, Philadelphia, two tracts in Cumberland township containing a total of 15 acres.

David C. and Alice M. Miller, Stra-ban township, sold to Bert and Gertrude J. West, of Baltimore, Mary-land, 21 acres in Straban township.

Louisa A. Krenner, West Man-helm township, sold to Ray E. and Trilla A. Krenner, Penn township, a one-half property in Union town-ship.

UNDECIDED ON TRIAL OF BOY
FOR MATRICIDE

York, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP)—District Attorney W. Burg Anstine said to-day decision on whether to bring William A. Jackson, 27, to trial on a charge of slaying his mother would depend upon the report of a psychiatrist who examined the boy for three hours yesterday.

Young Jackson, who Anstine said admitted stabbing his mother to death and dismembering her body with an axe, is in the York hospital for treatment of burns he allegedly received while trying to cremate the body.

Anstine had planned to take the youth to his isolated farm home to-day for a reenactment of the crime, but Jackson's condition prohibited his removal from the hospital.

The youth was charged with mur-der in the first degree after his fa-ther found Mrs. Jackson's head, legs and arms in a burlap bag and her torso in a small building on the family farm near here on Saturday.

The reenactment will take place, Anstine said, as soon as young Jack-son recovers from third degree burns which the district attorney said he received in an explosion when he attempted to set fire to the body with gasoline.

Anstine said he confessed killing her because she nagged him.

"I hated her and always hated her," the district attorney quoted him as saying.

Anstine said details of the crime were not clear and that his office, in preparing its case against the youth, needed to know the sequence of events from the time Mrs. Jack-son was stabbed 40 times with a butcher knife until her husband, returning from work in York, dis-covered the body.

Mrs. Jackson, who was 41, was the mother of eight other children.

NO THANKSGIVING
MAIL DELIVERIES

There will not be any city or rural deliveries of mail from the Gettys-burg post office on Thursday, Thanksgiving Day. Postmaster C. A. Williams announced today. There will be one-city collection of mail between 5:30 and 6:30 o'clock but only special delivery packages and letters will be delivered.

The post office lobby will be open from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. but there will not be any window service.

Local and county banks will ob-serve the holiday as will the offices at the court house.

Gettysburg public schools will have a two-day vacation with classes ending Wednesday afternoon until Monday morning. Pupils at the Gettysburg parochial school also follow that schedule.

Gettysburg college students will get only a one-day respite from classes. At the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary students will not have classes from Wednes-day afternoon until next Monday.

Hanover Shoe Gives Up Harness Racing

Hanover, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP)—The Hanover Shoe Farms announced to-day discontinuance of its stable of harness race horses and a spokes-man said the farms would be de-voted exclusively to breeding trotters and pacers for sale.

The Hanover racing stable was established in 1925 and has turned out several winners of the Hamble-tonian, biggest event of harness racing, the last one, Bill Gallon, in 1941.

The farms turn out 80 to 100 year-lings each year.

For the last six months, L. B. Sheppard, manager of the farms, has been a consultant in the War Production Board on shoes and shoe leather. He is now attending the Army's general staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., on Army or-ganization and procedure.

250,000 Jews
Are Executed
By Gestapo

London, Nov. 21 (AP)—The Polish government-in-exile asserted today that Heinrich Himmler, Nazi Gestapo chief, had ordered the extermination of one-half of the Jewish population of Poland by the end of this year and that 250,000 had been killed through September under that pro-gram.

"According to information leaking from the German labor office (Arbeitsamt), only 40,000 Jews are to remain in the Warsaw Ghetto—only thoroughly skilled workers to be employed in the German war industry," a government statement said.

"The most convincing proof of the dwindling numbers in the Ghetto lies in the fact that for September, 1942, 150,000 ration cards were printed; for October, the number issued was only 40,000."

ween Una and Gona, the last points of resistance seemed to be at Buna and at Sanananda. American troops were reported fighting yester-day at Buna mission, a mile from the town and it was apparent that the Japanese foothold there and at Sanananda could be no more than two or three miles deep, at best.

While the ground forces were shoving the enemy out of one of his best bases for potential invasion of Australia, Allied planes gave con-tinuing attention to Japanese-held bases on Portuguese Timor which lies threateningly northwest of the island continent. Attack planes and medium bombers raided Beccu and Ramecan, the communicate said.

Sales Of Explosives
Ingredients Permitted

Lee M. Hartman, county prothonotary, through whose office federal licenses for handling dynamite and other explosives are issued in this county, has been advised that in-gredients of explosives, among which is saltpeter, are now permitted to be sold in quantities of four ounces or less without an explosive license. The sales may be made to persons who are considered reliable, pro-vided they do not intend to use it to make explosives, without being required to take out an explosive license.

An Evening Thought

Great things astonish us, and small dishearten us. Custom makes both familiar.—De La Bruyere.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

AN UPRIGHT JUDGE

"Oh upright judge!" as Shylock cried,

"A Daniel, come to judgment!"

now

Accept the plaudits far and wide

Of all who fear some haughty brow.

Accept the thanks and high regards

Of all who "never get the cards!"

Too long the sneers and frowns

we've borne

Of those who boast superior skill;

Too long we've suffered rage and scorn

And looks described as "fit to kill."

Here's judgment wise to end our shame:

"Who holds the cards will win the game."

Belittled long by players smart,

Despised and shunned by all who hold

To make a claim is classic art,

This frees us from the table scold.

Tricks are by kings and aces taken.

Who holds the cards brings home the bacon!

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

A MOTHER'S PRAYER

God, Father of freedom, look after that boy of mine, wherever he may be.

Walk in upon him. Keep his mind stayed on Thee. Talk with him during the silent watches of the night, and spur him to bravery whenever called upon to face the cruel foe.

Transfer my prayer to his heart, that he may know the lingering love I have bequeathed to him as an everlasting gift.

Keep my boy contented and inspired by the never-dying faith in his Mother God. He is my gift to Freedom. May that Freedom forever remain untroubled, God.

Through the lonely and confusing hours of training and combat, and throughout all the long days of a hopeful Victory, keep his spirit high and his purpose unwavering. Make him a proud pal to all with whom he comes in contact, and make his influence a noon-day light wherever his duty takes him. Nourish that boy of mine with the love that I gave to him at birth, God. Satisfy the hunger of his soul with the knowledge of this daily prayer of mine.

To my country, and to world Freedom, O Heavenly Father, have I bequeathed this boy of mine. He is my choicest treasure. Take care of him, God. Keep him in health and sustain him under every possible circumstance of events. I once warmed him, God, under my heart. You warm him anew under his shelter and under the stars. Touch him with my smile of cheer and comfort, and my full confidence in his every brave pursuit.

Silent and alone, I pray, God, but I am only one of millions of Mothers whose prayers stream day and night to you. This is our Gethsemane. Lead us victoriously through it, God. And lead that boy of mine through his. Fall him not—and may he not fail you, his country, nor the Mother who bore him. That's all, God.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Clean Entertainment."

STATE POLICE PATTERN

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—A majority of the nation's state police organizations are patterned "directly or indirectly" after Pennsylvania's state police, Col. Lynn G. Adams, commissioner, told the Harrisburg Civic club's municipal department in a speech last night. Pennsylvania has aimed to create and maintain a model force, he added.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO

Gettysburg and Bucknell Draw: Showing a hard and consistent game through four gruelling periods the Gettysburg football team played Bucknell to a 6-6 tie before a crowd of 4000 people at Harrisburg Saturday afternoon.

Another Enlists: Meader I. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Williams, York street, left for Harrisburg where he will report to a recruiting station after which he will be sent to Camp Meigs, near Washington, D. C. He will be assigned to the mechanical department of the motor ambulance corps.

Andrew-Riggeal: At the parsonage of the Cashtown Reformed Church, in Fairfield, Miss Hilda G. Riggeal and Clyde G. Andrew were married at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning by the pastor, Rev. V. G. Hartman. The bride is a daughter of W. H. Riggeal, and the bridegroom a son of James Andrew. They will reside at their newly furnished home on Fern Hill Fruit Farm, near Cashtown.

Spangler-Spangler: Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Reformed parsonage, Arendtsville, Luther H. Spangler, of Littlestown, and Emma F. Spangler, of Aspers, were married by Rev. T. C. Hesson.

Riley-Hemler: Miss Dora A. Hemler, eldest daughter of Mrs. George Hemler, of Cumberland township, and James C. Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Riley, also of Cumberland township, were married at eight o'clock on Tuesday morning at a nuptial high mass in St. Francis Xavier church. It was celebrated by Rev. W. F. Boyle.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Grace Hemler. Her brother, Charles Hemler, was best man. After their return from a wedding trip they will live with the bride's mother. Mr. Riley expects to leave with the next contingent for Camp Meade.

Shill-Smith: Albert R. Shill and Miss Mary J. Smith, of near Gettysburg, were married by Rev. John H. Jeffries, at Washington, D. C., November second.

Mr. Shill is a college graduate, having attended school at Detroit, Michigan, and Law School at Valparaiso, Indiana. The couple are now residing in Washington.

Snowplows Are Bought by State: Preparations to keep the main state highways open for the heavy travel by motor trucks and heavy automobiles which are going across the state from the west to relieve the railroads are being made by Highway Commissioner O'Neill. Fifteen snow plows have been purchased by the state for use in connection with five-ton trucks. They will be used on the most traveled highways.

The licenses granted for all kinds of motor vehicles to November 19 amounted to 548,740.

Delmonico's to Close: New York, Nov. 24.—One of the most historic restaurants in America—Old Delmonico's, in Beaver street—closed on Saturday. The building in which it had its home was sold last September to the American Merchant Marine Company.

Russian Situation: (By Cable Amsterdam, Nov. 24)—Russian soldiers have already started to abandon advanced positions held along the front and opposing the Germans and Austrian lines.

Copenhagen, Nov. 24—Formal negotiations for an armistice are now under way between Germany and Russia.

Shipments to Russia Held Up: Washington, Nov. 21—No shipments of supplies will be permitted to go from the United States to Russia until the situation in that country clears. The American government, before allowing the export of goods already on the docks, wants to know into whose hands they will fall on their arrival.

Supply of Coal Here by System: Complaints about failure to get coal in Gettysburg and in other places throughout the county are now going through the hands of William McSherry, Esq., who is Adams County's Fuel Administrator. He, in turn, is in touch with the Fuel Administration of the state and the general plan is proving effective in coping with the situation.

Personal: Miss Eva Stock, of Baltimore street, spent the weekend with friends in Hanover.

Sergeant Major John Hewitt, of Camp Meade, is spending several days with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Bryan have returned home after attending the funeral of Harry D. Geiselman. Misses Beulah and Dorothy March of East Berlin, are guests of Miss Ethel Culp, at her home on York street.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Tipton, who have been here for the past four months have gone to Waynesboro. Mr. Tipton has gone to have charge of a detail of troopers there.

Mrs. John Bushman, mother of Francis K. Bushman, and Mrs. Emma Couric of Baltimore, are visiting their sister, Mrs. Harry Cunningham, Washington street.

Veteran And Youngster May Head Legislative Minority

TWO PARTIES PREPARE FOR LEGISLATURE

By WICK TEMPLE

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—A veteran Pittsburgh senator and a youthful Berks county representative were advanced today as likely leaders of the Democratic minority in the 1943 Pennsylvania legislature.

A high party official who declined to be quoted said 63-year-old Bernard B. McGinnis probably would be retained as Senate floor leader with 34-year-old Albert S. Readinger the logical choice for the same post in the House.

Democratic Chairman David L. Lawrence is expected to call party chiefs together soon to map legislative plans for the assembly session convening January 5.

A spokesman said the Democrats would seek the $100,000,000 tax slash promised in the party's unsuccessful campaign for the Governorship despite the fact the Republicans wrested House control their general election sweep. The GOP also promised to undertake a tax reduction but did not set a specific goal.

32-18 GOP Margin While the Republicans retained their 32-18 majority in the Senate, Democrats still hold the whip hand on confirmation of executive appointees which require a two-thirds vote.

McGinnis, Pittsburgh lawyer and former assistant U. S. attorney, has been a member of the Senate since 1934. Readinger, a Reading attorney and head of the important Rules committee at the last session, entered the House in 1936. He would succeed Leo A. Achtermann of Monroe county, who was defeated in the primary for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

Republicans apparently have agreed on their legislative leadership, slating Ira T. Piss, Snyder county contractor, for speaker; Charles H. Ealy, Somerset, president pro tempore of the Senate; and Weldon B. Heyburn, Delaware county, majority leader of the upper branch. Representative Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, Lehigh, is said to have the nod for House floor leader over Walter E. Rose, Jr., Cambria; Edwin Winner, Montgomery, and Thomas B. Stockham, Bucks.

Inaugurates 13th Seal Sale Campaign

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—Colonel Henry W. Shoemaker, Altoona Tribune publisher, will direct his 13th Christmas Seal sale in Pennsylvania to gather funds to combat tuberculosis.

Accepting the chairmanship Sunday, he declared the disease "presents a distinct problem on the home front" and asserted "about 9,000 young men in Pennsylvania already have been rejected for military service because of the infection."

The state health department, through its tuberculosis clinics, physicians and nurses, sponsors the drive each year. The Pennsylvania goal of $600,000 was expected by $12,000 last year and Colonel Shoemaker said he hopes to better the $612,000 figure this year.

Marines Have Time To Swim And Fish On Guadalcanal

By HAMILTON FARON
Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—Life on Guadalcanal isn't all fighting the Japs—there's time for some recreation, for singing, "bull sessions," fishing, swimming.

Scattered through letters from Marines on the island is a piecemeal picture of "non-battle" life on the Solomons.

It shows the natives as stocky little brown men with shaggy tufts of clay-colored hair protruding from their heads; cocoanut palms towering above rugged shores; great flocks of pure white macaws whose raucous shouts break the silence when guns aren't barking.

Some Swimming and Fishing And the written mural shows, too, Marines swimming in mountain streams; fishing for bass—they're biting well; slogging through deep, thick black mud.

The letters and official reports also tell of the principal recreation—listening to news broadcasts from a shortwave station in San Francisco, then a "bull session" to debate the day's news after darkness falls.

The favorite topic on that embattled island far down in the tropics is one of the most surprising things in the letters—most of the "bull sessions" are devoted to the Russian front; how the campaign is progressing there and how the "fox-hole strategists" of Guadalcanal would operate on snow-covered Russian battlefronts.

Food Is Plentiful There's no trouble about food, which is plentiful and good.

The big meal is the first of the day. It is called breakfast if the night has been quiet. It might have any name if battles have

Flashes of Life

SHORT, BUT ELOQUENT

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—When Private Dick Theurer of the Marine corps came home on his last furlough, his father, Ben Theurer, asked him to write frequently "even if you have no news to tell."

The father has just received this letter:

"Dear Dad:
Affectionately yours,
Dick.

P. S. Boy, am I tired!"

NO DICE

Kansas City (AP)—There was a clickety-clickety-clack followed by an explosive snap of fingers.

Officer Tom Coates hurried into a cell at police headquarters where 20 negroes, arrested as crack shooters, were held. The game had started again.

He collected $7.05 in small change, but couldn't find the dice. Theorized Officer Coates:
"One fellow passed them over his mouth. I think he swallowed them."

POPULAR AT LAST

Kansas City, Kas. (AP)—Wyan-dotte County Draft Board No. 2 grew tired of it all. This sign was hung in its window.

"This is not the rationing board. Sugar, oil, gas, tires and other items next door."

IT NEVER IS

Kansas City (AP)—Russell Greenlee, father of a four-year-old son, was alarmed when he saw neighbor boys playing with a rifle.

"I once saw a boy kill another that way," he told a 10-year-old who was aiming the weapon at a playmate and snapping the trigger. "Phooey," replied the boy. "He musta been careless. This one isn't loaded."

Nothing Unusual In Boise's Acts—Moran

Philadelphia, Nov. 24 (AP)—The American light cruiser Boise sank or helped to sink six Japanese warships in 27 minutes, but to Capt. E. J. (Mike) Moran, the skipper, there was nothing extraordinary about how she did it.

"All we did was use the right signals at the right time," he said, "when the touchdown play was called we put the ball across."

The 49-year-old skipper, added:

"I'm no hero. The crew and the ship are the heroes. This ship is the greatest thing afloat. The men were so well trained they performed better in action than in drills. Every man is ready to go back. They were all smarter and more intelligent than the enemy."

Moran spoke at a Press conference authorized by the Navy.

The Boise, scarred and scorched, steamed into Philadelphia last Thursday, some six weeks after its historic battle off the Solomons islands. During the engagement her magazine exploded and she was enveloped in high-heat flames, and other U. S. ships in the force left her as fatally stricken.

The crew doused the blaze, plugged the ship's holes with bedding, and two hours later rejoined the fleet.

India exports about 86 per cent of her cashew nut crop to the United States.

Oppose Transfer Of Draft Office

Indianapolis, Nov. 25 (AP)—The National Executive committee of the American Legion believes that transferring the administration of the Selective Service act to any other federal agency would "tend to create confusion and uneasiness throughout the country."

The Legion's ruling body outlined its view on the proposal in a resolution adopted Saturday at the conclusion of a two-day meeting.

A suggestion that the Selective Service system be made part of the War Manpower commission has been made by Commissioner Paul V. McNutt, one time National Legion commander.

The Legion resolution, which did not mention McNutt's name, said that "those charged with the administration of the act have been and are co-operating to the fullest extent with all the federal agencies, industry, agriculture, and labor."

YOUNG MOTHER FREE OF MURDER

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—Frail Mrs. Anna Harrington, 21, mother of four who was charged with first degree murder in the shooting of the husband she said branded her face with a roaring fork, is free again.

A Bronx county jury of four women and eight men, after deliberating about six hours, last night acquitted the 98-pound woman who had been accused of firing a shot into the spine of Almar Harrington, 23, last June. Harrington died in September.

The shooting was said to have culminated an argument concerning $3. Mrs. Harrington claimed she did not know the gun, which discharged during the quarrel, was loaded.

She testified that Harrington had beaten her numerous times. Judge Harry Stackel told the jury it must consider self-defense as a possible motive. The prosecution had not asked the death penalty.

Before Harrington died a court order sought by his foster-mother, Mrs. Florence Kelly Cammarata, permitted him to see the children. Mrs. Cammarata, who has had custody of the children—they range in age from one to five—said Mrs. Harrington had refused her husband's pleas to see them.

Mrs. Cammarata said yesterday that if Mrs. Harrington were acquitted, she could take the youngsters home immediately.

"RATION" BUTTER

Philadelphia, Nov. 24 (AP)—A "run" on butter and butter substitutes forced scores of Philadelphia retail grocers to adopt voluntary rationing today to prevent a shortage over Thanksgiving. Trade increased sharply last week the government "froze" 50 per cent of the butter supply in the warehouses of the nation's 35 largest cities. Wholesalers here began apportioning sales to retail outlets.

Yes, every last one of you!

SAYS AUNT JENNY

Just do 2 EASY things

"MAYBE you feel you've 'no luck' with pastry. Maybe you've vowed you'll never make a pie again. But forget all that," says Aunt Jenny. "This time it's goin' to be different if you just do these two things:

"One, get Spry. Two, follow this easy receipt exactly. See what tender, flaky crust an' so delicate-tastin' made with pure Spry. Make all your pies Spry's simple 2-teen way an' hear the compliments. Do all your bakin' an' fryin' with Spry an' taste the difference. Watch for more Spry receipts but remember, use Spry in 'em. You can't get the same results with just any shortenin' that you get with pure Spry."

"An' Spry's so easy to use. It's always creamy-soft, ready for instant mixin'. For you don't have to keep Spry in the refrigerator. It stays fresh on the kitchen shelf."

Combine pumpkin, honey, cinnamon, vanilla and salt. Add eggs and milk. Pour mixture into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 40 to 45 minutes.

Spry Pie Shell

Mix 1½ cups sifted ALL-PURPOSE FLOUR and ½ teaspoon SALT. Measure out 7 tablespoons SPRY and divide into two equal parts.

STEP 1 for Tenderness—cut in first half of Spry until as fine as meal.

STEP 2 for Flakiness—cut in remaining Spry until particles are size of large peas.

Add 3 tablespoons cold WATER (no more, no less), mixing thoroughly into a dough. Roll ½ inch thick. Place dough in pan and let relax 5 minutes. Pat with ball of dough to fit pastry into pan. Trim pastry 1 inch larger than pan and turn back edge. Flute rim.

Japanese Put Up Tricky Fight Against Americans
But Cause Few Casualties

By MURLIN SPENCER

With U. S. Forces Somewhere in New Guinea, Nov. 23 (Delayed) (AP)—United States troops fighting a jungle battle over what they say must be the world's worst battleground are taking everything the Japanese have in their full bag of tricks with comparatively few casualties.

In short, in this cautious, painstaking advance through tall grass and under the green canopy of tall trees, the Americans are dealing out steady punishment at small cost.

Our troops are finding the Japanese tricky. For instance, one wounded Japanese lying among the dead was caught lifting a hand grenade. A bullet in the head finished him.

Had to Cross Stream Corp. Clinton Brownell of Platteville, Wis., described the Japanese as "big fellows, well-equipped, fighting from well-prepared positions in slit trenches, behind log barricades and some barbed wire."

The assault started at dawn Nov. 19. The troops in the unit I was following first had to cross a deep stream. On the other side was a machine-gun nest, but the Japanese let the first troops cross before opening fire.

Corp. Delos A. Leland, of Alexandria, La., and Private John Wilson of St. Louis, stumbled on the machinegun, and Leland was wounded by the first burst.

"The bullet knocked me down and that was the first I knew the Japs were there," said Leland. "I could hear Wilson crawling towards them so I opened fire with my rifle. I could hear Wilson firing, too. We got four Japs, but I had to come back to the hospital."

Cautious Advance The advance continued in that manner. The troops edged forward cautiously. A burst of machine-gun fire would send them flat into the mud. Our machine-guns or mortars would seek out the Japanese nest, and when it was silenced

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY FIVE YEARS AGO
Gettysburg and Bucknell Draw:
Showing a hard and consistent game through four gruelling periods the Gettysburg football team played Bucknell to a 6-6 tie before a crowd of 4000 people at Harrisburg Saturday afternoon.

Another Enlists: Meader I. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Williams, York street, left for Harrisburg where he will report to a recruiting station after which he will be sent to Camp Meigs, near Washington, D. C. He will be assigned to the mechanical department of the motor ambulance corps.

Andrew-Riggeal: At the parsonage of the Cashtown Reformed Church, in Fairfield, Miss Hilda G. Riggeal and Clyde G. Andrew were married at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning by the pastor, Rev. V. G. Hartman. The bride is a daughter of W. H. Riggeal, and the bridegroom a son of James Andrew. They will reside at their newly furnished home on Fern Hill Fruit Farm, near Cash-town.

Spangler-Spangler: Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Reformed parsonage, Arentsville, Luther H. Spangler, of Littlestown, and Emma F. Spangler, of Aspers, were married by Rev. T. C. Messon.

Riley-Hemler: Miss Dora A. Hemler, eldest daughter of Mrs. George Hemler, of Cumberland township, and James C. Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Riley, also of Cumberland township, were married at eight o'clock on Tuesday morning at a nuptial high mass in St. Francis Xavier church. It was celebrated by Rev. W. F. Boyle.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Grace Hemler. Her brother, Charles Hemler, was best man.

After their return from a wedding trip they will live with the bride's mother. Mr. Riley expects to leave with the next contingent for Camp Meade.

Shill-Smith: Albert R. Shill and Miss Mary J. Smith, of near Gettysburg, were married by Rev. John H. Jeffries, at Washington, D. C., November second.

Mr. Shill is a college graduate, having attended school at Detroit, Michigan, and Law School at Valparaiso, Indiana. The couple are now residing in Washington.

Snowplows Are Bought by State:
Preparations to keep the main state highways open for the heavy travel by motor trucks and heavy automobiles which are going across the state from the west to relieve the railroads are being made by Highway Commissioner O'Neil. Fifteen snow plows have been purchased by the state for use in connection with five-ton trucks. They will be used on the most traveled highways.

The licenses granted for all kinds of motor vehicles to November 19 amounted to 546,740.

Delmonico's to Close: Near York, Nov. 24—One of the most historic restaurants in America—Old Delmonico's, in Beaver street—closed on Saturday. The building in which it had its home was sold last September to the American Merchant Marine Company.

Russian Situation: (By Cable Amsterdam, Nov. 24)—Russian soldiers have already started to abandon advanced positions held along the front and opposing the Germans and Austrian lines.

Copenhagen News, 24—Formal negotiations for an armistice are now under way between Germany and Russia.

Shipments to Russia Held Up:
Washington, Nov. 21—No shipments of supplies will be permitted to go from the United States to Russia until the situation in that country clears. The American government, before allowing the export of goods already on the docks, wants to know into whose hands they will fall on their arrival.

Supply of Coal Here by System:
Complaints about failure to get coal in Gettysburg and in other places throughout the county are now going through the hands of William McSherry, Esq., who is Adams County's Fuel Administrator. He, in turn, is in touch with the Fuel Administration of the state and the general plan is proving effective in coping with the situation.

Personal: Miss Eva Stock, of Baltimore street, spent the week-end with friends in Hanover.

Sergeant Major John Hewitt, of Camp Meade, is spending several days with friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Bryan have returned home after attending the funeral of Harry D. Geiselman.

Misses Beulah and Dorothy March of East Berlin, are guests of Miss Ethel Culp, at her home on York street.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Tipton, who have been here for the past four months have gone to Waynesboro. Mr. Tipton has gone to have charge of a detail of troopers there.

Mrs. John Bushman, mother of Francis K. Bushman, and Mrs. Emma Courde of Baltimore, are visiting their sister, Mrs. Harry Cunningham, Washington street.

Veteran And Youngster May Head Legislative Minority

TWO PARTIES PREPARE FOR LEGISLATURE

By WICK TEMPLE

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—A veteran Pittsburgh senator and a youthful Berks county representative were advanced today as likely leaders of the Democratic minority in the 1943 Pennsylvania legislature.

A high party official who declined to be quoted said 63-year-old Bernard B. McGinnis probably would be retained as Senate floor leader with 34-year-old Albert S. Readinger the logical choice for the same post in the House.

Democratic Chairman David L. Lawrence is expected to call party chieftains together soon to map legislative plans for the assembly session convening January 5.

A spokesman said the Democrats would seek the $100,000,000 tax slash promised in the party's unsuccessful campaign for the Governorship despite the fact the Republicans wrested House control their general election sweep. The GOP also promised to undertake a tax reduction but did not set a specific goal.

32-18 GOP Margin
While the Republicans retained their 32-18 majority in the Senate, Democrats still hold the whip hand on confirmation of executive appointments which require a two-thirds vote.

McGinnis, Pittsburgh lawyer and former assistant U. S. attorney, has been a member of the Senate since 1934. Readinger, a Reading attorney and head of the important Rules committee at the last session, entered the House in 1936. He would succeed Leo A. Achterman of Monroe county, who was defeated in the primary for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

Republicans apparently have agreed on their legislative leadership, slating Ira T. Fiss, Snyder county contractor, for speaker; Charles H. Ealy, Somerset, president pro tempore of the Senate; and Weldon B. Heyburn, Delaware county, majority leader of the upper branch. Representative Franklin H. Lichtenwalter, Lehigh, is said to have the nod for House floor leader over Walter E. Rose, Jr., Cambria; Edwin Winner, Montgomery, and Thomas B. Stockham, Bucks.

Flashes of Life

SHORT, BUT ELOQUENT
Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—When Private Dick Theurer of the Marine Corps came home on his last furlough, his father, Ben Theurer, asked him to write frequently "even if you have no news to tell."

"Dear Dad:
Affectionately yours,

P. S. Boy, am I tired!"

NO DICE
Kansas City (AP)—There was a clickety-clickety-clack followed by an explosive snap of fingers.

Officer Tom Coates hurried into a cell at police headquarters where 20 negroes, arrested as crap shooters, were held. The game had started again.

He collected $7.05 in small change, but couldn't find the dice. Theorized Officer Coates:

"One fellow passed them over his mouth. I think he swallowed them."

POPULAR AT LAST
Kansas City, Kas. (AP)—Wyandotte County Draft Board No. 2 grew tired of it all. This sign was hung in its window.

"This is not the rationing board. Sugar, oil, gas, tires and other items next door."

IT NEVER IS
Kansas City (AP)—Russell Greenlee, father of a four-year-old son, was alarmed when he saw neighbor boys playing with a rifle.

"I once saw a boy kill another that way," he told a 10-year-old who was aiming the weapon at a playmate and snapping the trigger.

"Phooey," replied the boy. "He musta been careless. This one isn't loaded."

Oppose Transfer Of Draft Office

Indianapolis, Nov. 25 (AP)—The National Executive committee of the American Legion believes that transferring the administration of the Selective Service act to any other federal agency would "tend to create confusion and uneasiness throughout the country."

The Legion's ruling body outlined its view on the proposal in a resolution adopted Saturday at the conclusion of a two-day meeting.

A suggestion that the Selective Service system be made part of the War Manpower commission has been made by Commissioner Paul V. McNutt, one time National Legion commander.

The Legion resolution, which did not mention McNutt's name, said that "those charged with the administration of the act have been and are co-operating to the fullest extent with all the federal agencies, industry, agriculture, and labor."

Big Counterfeit Ring Is Smashed

Philadelphia, Nov. 24 (AP)—Frank Quartucci, 27, was held in $7,500 bail today on a charge of distributing counterfeit money.

A 16-year-old boy told U.S. Commissioner Norman J. Griffin that Quartucci gave him 20 one-dollar counterfeit bills to pass and promised to give him two when he had succeeded.

After the arrest of Quartucci and two other men last week, Secret Service agents said a large counterfeit ring had been smashed.

TROUBLED BY WARTIME CONSTIPATION?

Lack of "bulk" may be your difficulty

If you're feeling "low," dragged out, not quite up to par, consider this: In these war days your living habits are all upset. Meals especially are likely to be hurried, improperly balanced. And you're apt to forget the importance of adequate "bulk" in your diet.

Yet the lack of this one food essential is one of the common causes of wartime constipation. For this trouble, medicinal laxatives are but temporary remedies; they don't get at the cause.

If this is your trouble, you need more "bulk"—and Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, a delicious crisp cereal, supplies it in tempting, appetizing form. Eat ALL-BRAN regularly, drink plenty of water and "Join the Regulars." Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

AN UPRIGHT JUDGE
"Oh upright judge!" as Shylock cried,
"A Daniel, come to judgment!"
now
Accept the plaintiffs far and wide
Of all who fear some haughty brow.
Accept the thanks and high regards
Of all who "never get the cards!"
Too long the sneers and frowns
We've borne
Of those who boast superior skill;
Too long we've suffered rage and scorn
And looks described as "fit to kill."
Here's judgment wise to end our shame:
"Who holds the cards will win the game."
Belittled long by players smart,
Despised and shunned by all who hold
To make a slam is classic art.
This frees us from the table scold.
Tricks are by kings and aces taken.
Who holds the cards brings home the bacon!

Nothing Unusual In Boise's Acts—Moran

Philadelphian, Nov. 24 (AP)—The American light cruiser Boise sank or helped to sink six Japanese warships in 27 minutes, but to Capt. E. J. (Mike) Moran, the skipper, there was nothing extraordinary about how she did it.

"All we did was use the right signals at the right time," he said, "when the touchdown play was called we put the ball across."

The 49-year-old skipper, added: "I'm no hero. The crew and the ship are the heroes. This ship is the greatest thing afloat. The men were so well trained they performed better in action than in drills. Every man is ready to go back. They were all smarter and more intelligent than the enemy."

Moran spoke at a Press conference authorized by the Navy.

The Boise, scarred and scorched, steamed into Philadelphia last Thursday, some six weeks after its historic battle off the Solomon Islands. During the engagement her magazine exploded and she was encircled in mast-high flames, and other U. S. ships in the force left her as fatally stricken.

The crew doused the blaze, plugged the ship's holes with bedding, and two hours later rejoined the fleet.

India exports about 86 per cent of her cashew nut crop to the United States.

YOUNG MOTHER FREE OF MURDER

New York, Nov. 24 (AP)—Frail Mrs. Anna Harrington, 21, mother of four who was charged with first degree murder in the shooting of the husband she said branded her face with a roaring fork, is free again.

A Bronx county jury of four women and eight men, after deliberating about six hours, last night acquitted the 98-pound woman who had been accused of firing a shot into the spine of Almon Harrington, 23, last June. Harrington died in September.

The shooting was said to have culminated an argument concerning $3. Mrs. Harrington claimed she did not know the gun, which discharged during the quarrel, was loaded.

She testified that Harrington had beaten her numerous times. Judge Harry Stackell told the jury it must consider self-defense as a possible motive. The prosecution had not asked the death penalty.

Before Harrington died a court order sought by his foster-mother, Mrs. Florence Kelly Cammarata, permitted him to see the children. Mrs. Cammarata, who has had custody of the children—three range in age from one to five—said Mrs. Harrington had refused her husband's pleas to see them.

Mrs. Cammarata said yesterday that if Mrs. Harrington were acquitted, she could take the youngsters home immediately.

Today's Talk

By George Mathew Adams

A MOTHER'S PRAYER
God, Father of freedom, look after that boy of mine, wherever he may be. Walk in upon him. Keep his mind stayed on Thee. Talk with him during the silent watches of the night, and spur him to bravery whenever called upon to face the cruel foe. Transfer my prayer to his heart, that he may know the lingering love I have bequeathed to him as an everlasting gift.

Keep my boy contented and inspired by the never-dying faith in his Mother God. He is my gift to Freedom. May that Freedom forever remain untroubled, God.

Through the lonely and confusing hours of training and combat, and throughout all the long days of a hopeful Victory, keep his spirit high and his purpose unwavering. Make him a proud pal to all with whom he comes in contact, and make his influence a noon-day light wherever his duty takes him. Nourish that boy of mine with the love that I gave to him at birth, God. Satisfy the hunger of his soul with the knowledge of this daily prayer of mine.

To my country, and to world Freedom, O Heavenly Father, have I bequeathed this boy of mine. He is my choicest treasure. Take care of him, God. Keep him in health and sustain him under every possible circumstance of events. I once warmed him, God, under my heart. You warm him anew under his shelter and under the stars. Touch him with my smile of cheer and comfort, and my full confidence in his every brave pursuit.

Silent and alone, I pray, God, but I am only one of millions of Mothers whose prayers stream day and night to you. This is our Gethsemane. Lead us victoriously through it, God. And lead that boy of mine through his. Fall him not—and may he not fall you, his country, nor the Mother who bore him. That's all, God.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Clean Entertainment."

Marines Have Time To Swim And Fish On Guadalcanal

By HAMILTON FARON

Washington, Nov. 24 (AP)—Life on Guadalcanal isn't all fighting the Japs—there's time for some recreation, for singing, "bull sessions," fishing, swimming.

Scattered through letters from Marines on the island is a piecemeal picture of "non-battle" life on the Solomons.

It shows the natives as stocky little brown men with shaggy tufts of clay-colored red hair protruding from their heads; cocoanut palms towering above rugged shores; great flocks of pure white macaws whose raucous shouts break the silence when guns aren't barking.

Some Swimming and Fishing
And the written mural shows, too, Marines swimming in mountain streams; fishing for bass—they're biting well; slogging through deep, thick black mud.

Very Little Illness
Many of the men have grown beards on faces burned almost black by the sun; all have found that the river provides the answer to cleanliness. There they bathe, wash their clothes. Illness, General Vandergift reports, has been at "a very low level."

There's plenty of novelty, too, for newcomers. Sergeant James W. Hurlbut, Marine combat reporter, reported they "stopped occasionally, while moving their gear back into the coconut palms, to hack open a coconut for the novelty of drinking its milk."

The first words of the new arrivals, addressed to Hurlbut, were: "Where are those damned Japs?" "What'll we get a whack at 'em!" "When's the USO club?" "Any galsha girls around?" (The answer to the last is—no).

Inaugurates 13th Seal Sale Campaign

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—Colonel Henry W. Shoemaker, Altoona Tribune publisher, will direct his 13th Christmas Seal sale in Pennsylvania to gather funds to combat tuberculosis.

Accepting the chairmanship Sunday, he declared the disease "presents a distinct problem on the home front" and asserted "about 9,000 young men in Pennsylvania already have been rejected for military service because of the infection."

The state Health department, through its tuberculosis clinics, physicians and nurses, sponsors the drive each year. The Pennsylvania goal of $600,000 was expected by $12,000 last year and Colonel Shoemaker said he hopes to better the $612,000 figure this year.

STATE POLICE PATTERN

Harrisburg, Nov. 24 (AP)—A majority of the nation's state police organizations are patterned "directly or indirectly" after Pennsylvania state police, Col. Lynn G. Adams, commissioner, told the Harrisburg Civic club's municipal department in a speech last night. Pennsylvania has aimed to create and maintain a model force, he added.

Flash of Life

SHORT, BUT ELOQUENT
Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—When Private Dick Theurer of the Marine Corps came home on his last furlough, his father, Ben Theurer, asked him to write frequently "even if you have no news to tell."

The father has just received this letter:

"Dear Dad:
Affectionately yours,
Dick.
P. S. Boy, am I tired!"

NO DICE
Kansas City (AP)—There was a clickety-clickety-clack followed by an explosive snap of fingers.

Officer Tom Coates hurried into a cell at police headquarters where 20 negroes, arrested as crap shooters, were held. The game had started again.

He collected $7.05 in small change, but couldn't find the dice. Theorized Officer Coates:

"One fellow passed them over his mouth. I think he swallowed them."

POPULAR AT LAST
Kansas City, Kas. (AP)—Wyandotte County Draft Board No. 2 grew tired of it all. This sign was hung in its window.

"This is not the rationing board. Sugar, oil, gas, tires and other items next door."

IT NEVER IS
Kansas City (AP)—Russell Greenlee, father of a four-year-old son, was alarmed when he saw neighbor boys playing with a rifle.

"I once saw a boy kill another that way," he told a 10-year-old who was aiming the weapon at a playmate and snapping the trigger.

"Phooey," replied the boy. "He musta been careless. This one isn't loaded."

I can make you a Better Cook

Yes, every last one of you!

SAYS AUNT JENNY

Just do 2 EASY things

"MAYBE you feel you've 'no luck' with pastry. Maybe you've vowed you'll never make a pie again. But forget all that," says Aunt Jenny. "This time it's going to be different if you just do these two things:

"One, get Spry. Two, follow this easy receipt exactly. See what tender, flaky crust and so delicate-tasting made with pure Spry. Make all your pies Spry's simple 2-step way and hear the compliments. Do all your bakin' and fryin' with Spry and taste the difference. Watch for more Spry receipts but remember, use Spry in 'em. You can't get the same results with just any shortenin' that you get with pure Spry!

"And Spry's so easy to use. It's always creamy-soft, ready for instant mixin'. For you don't have to keep Spry in the refrigerator. It stays fresh on the kitchen shelf."

Honey Pumpkin Pie
1 1/2 cups canned or cooked pumpkin 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup honey 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 unbaked Spry Pie Shell
Combine pumpkin, honey, cinnamon, vanilla and salt. Add eggs and milk. Pour mixture into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 40 to 45 minutes.

Spry Pie Shell
Mix 1 1/2 cups sifted ALL-PURPOSE FLOUR and 1/2 teaspoon SALT. Measure out 7 tablespoons Spry and divide into two equal parts.
STEP 1 for Tenderness—cut in first half of Spry until as fine as meal.
STEP 2 for Flakiness—cut in remaining Spry until particles are size of large peas.
Add 3 tablespoons cold WATER (no more, no less), mixing thoroughly into a dough. Roll 1/8 inch thick. Place dough in pan and let relax 5 minutes. Pat with ball of dough to fit pastry into pan. Trim pastry 1 inch larger than pan and turn back edge. Flute rim.

HERE'S YOUR "ORDER FOR A BOMB" for delivery to Berlin or Tokyo!

Just read that "order," Mr. and Mrs. America!
Read it carefully.
It will deliver a bomb, with your democratic compliments, to the murderous dictators of Germany or Japan.
It's an application for a U. S. War Bond.
Sign it and Your Bomb will help tear apart the military machine the Axis powers have built to destroy you.

Put off signing it and the chances are good that you'll live just long enough to accept delivery of one "Made in Germany" or one "Made in Japan" yourself.
Because those boys aren't fooling. They're killers—and they're coming after you . . . fast!
So what are you going to do about it?
Wait until they are on American soil?

They're on it now! In the Aleutian Islands, if you want to pick a place close to home!
So, the time to act is now! To buy War Bonds with at least 10% of your income—every week—so your bomb can be delivered every week until this war is won.
It's easy to buy War Bonds at your post office, bank, savings and loan association, at many department stores, motion picture theaters, and other official sales agencies today!

THREE TO DIE FOR TREASON

Chicago, Nov. 24 (AP)—Three men convicted of treason were sentenced to death today and their wives were each sentenced to 25 years im- prisonment and fined $10,000.

The men were sentenced to die by electrocution Jan. 22 "at a place in northern Illinois."

Each of the defendants stared fixedly at the judge as the sentence was pronounced, displaying no emo- tion. There was no demonstration in the courtroom.

The defendants, convicted of aid- ing and sheltering Herbert Hans Haupt, one of the eight Nazi saboteurs who landed in America by submarine last summer, were:

Hans and Erna Haupt, parents of the saboteur; Walter and Lucille Froehling, the youth's uncle and aunt, and Otto and Kate Vergin, friends of the Haupt family.

It was the second treason convic- tion in 146 years of American his- tory.

On Aug. 6, Max Stephan was con- victed at Detroit, Mich., and sen- tenced to be hanged for aiding the flight of a Nazi saboteur who es- caped from a Canadian concentra- tion camp.

The six defendants in the Chicago treason case were convicted Nov. 14. Subsequently Anthony Cramer was convicted in New York, Nov. 18, for helping two of the saboteurs who accompanied young Haupt to America on a mission of destruction.

SOUGHT ARREST TO AVOID WAR

Chicago, Nov. 24 (AP)—"I'm too yellow to go to war," said the young- man who stood before Judge Joseph B. Hermes in felony court yesterday.

The court, apparently surprised at his remarks, queried: "Are you sincere?"

Theodore Kurgan, 23, a parolee being arraigned on a charge of lar- ceny involving theft of $1,500 in blank money order checks, replied: "Sure. I wanted to be arrested again."

Judge Hermes immediately im- posed sentence of one year in jail and added: "I will issue a warrant for your arrest for violation of parole when your term is served."

Detective Emmet Murphy said Kurgan had seven years yet to serve on a prison sentence for au- tomobile larceny. He was paroled in July, 1941.

Under the new draft ruling for ex-convicts, Kurgan was reclassified as I-A and faced early induction.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN NEAR ABBOTTSTOWN

Fire of unknown origin on Satur- day afternoon destroyed a bar- row pen, chicken house and car- riage shed on the farm owned by Paul F. Wolf, Abbottstown, tenanted by Les- lie Benicker, and located along the New Oxford-East Berlin road, near the Pine Run schoolhouse. There was no estimate of the loss, which was partly covered by insurance.

When the fire was discovered, be- tween 1 and 2 o'clock, Saturday af- ternoon, flames were issuing from the barn, a structure approximate- ly 30 to 40 feet. The Abbottstown, East Berlin and New Oxford Fire com- panies were summoned. The fire- men pumped water from Pine Run, nearly 2,000 feet from the burning buildings.

The fire had gained such headway before it was discovered that it was impossible to remove livestock from the barn. Four heifers and a bull perished. Also burned were several pieces of farm machinery.

Two Girls and a Man

Chapter One
Mysterious Correspondence

Old Jed Bowers smiled once a day.

His smile was perfectly timed with the chattering stop of his Model T Ford, the slamming of the Ralston's screen door, and the sight of Rita coming down the flagstone walk, graceful as a swan skimming a millpond, the California sun glint- ing in her honey-gold hair and her brown velvet eyes smiling a wel- come.

On his circuitous route for Uncle Sam, the other stops at the low, rambling ranch houses were just half routine but the sight of Rita, the aged postman was fond of putting it, "Was good for sore eyes."

"Just one letter today, Rita gal, and that's for your pa." Jed's grin showed his toothless gums.

Rita smile faded as she looked at the long envelope with its ex- pensively engraved name in the corner.

"Your pa must be havin' quite a sight of business with that New York bank. Here of late he's al- ways gettin' letters from 'em."

"Must be some kind of advertis- ing," Rita murmured quickly. "I never heard him mention any business with them."

"Spoke it is," Jed pulled the monthly Citrus magazine from the seat beside him. "An' here's some- pin' oughta make your eyes bung out." He watched her with a sly grin as she opened it to the mark- ed place, and chuckled at her happy gasp.

"Pretty nice, eh? Picture of th' factory 'n' everything. Your Pa's makin' a go of it looks like. Be pretty bad around her, the kinda crops we've had for the last two years, if I weren't for that orange juice factory of his'n."

The men were sentenced to die by electrocution Jan. 22 "at a place in northern Illinois."

clenched for control. She had fought constantly during the war, day and months to keep her quick, spon- taneous laugh, her ready wit, hold- ing on as a drowning man holds to the last floating spar while a great tidal wave of hopelessness seemed about to sweep around her. She could stand it no longer. What was it that was stooping her father's straight shoulders, harrying his valiant spirit? She crossed to him to slip her hand in his.

"Look here, Rolly," her voice was low but steady. "I want to know what's in those mysterious New York letters of yours that upsets you so."

"Now don't you worry about—her father began, but she cut him short.

"I do though," she retorted crisply. "Come on, Rolly—come. I'm too old to steam them open and peek—so I must be old enough to be told about them."

He smiled at this, while his eyes somberly moved over her face. "Maybe you're right," he said thoughtfully. "But I've broken into your plans—bringing you home from San Francisco, and all. I didn't want to worry you."

"Don't you know a woman can stand anything but curiosity?" Without a word, Ralston handed her the letter.

Lieut. Irwin, Nurse.
Dies In African Action

Ligonier, Pa., Nov. 24 (AP)—Vira- cious Gertrude Irwin has had her wish to serve her country in the front lines fulfilled, but at the cost of her life.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Irwin, par- ents of the pretty, 24-year-old Army nurse and lieutenant, were notified yesterday by the War department of their daughter's death "in action" in Africa on November 14.

Only a few days earlier the couple had received a letter from Lieut. Irwin, telling them, "Don't worry about me." She said she was work- ing 12 hours daily in an African hospital but was having "a good time."

No details of the death were given. Lieut. Irwin enlisted in the Army last January. She had graduated as a nurse in the South Side Hos- pital, Pittsburgh, and worked for two years at the Westmoreland hospital in Greensburg.

Prior to sailing, she was stationed at Fort Eustis, Virginia.

IN MEMORIAM

A tribute of love to the memory of my dear father, Samuel Rentzel, who passed away, November 21, 1923.

IN MEMORIAM

"Yur pa must be havin' quite a sight of business with that New York bank. Here of late he's always gettin' letters from 'em."

"Must be some kind of advertising," Rita murmured quickly. "I never heard him mention any business with them."

"Spose it is," Jed pulled the monthly Citrus magazine from the seat beside him. "An' here's some-thing 'bout makin' yur eyes bung out." He watched her with a sly grin as she opened it to the marked place, and chuckled at her happy gasp.

"Pretty nice, eh? Picture o' th' factory 'n' everything. Yur Pa's makin' a go of it looks like. Be pretty bad around here, the kinda crops we've had for the last two years, if t'werent for that orange juice factory o' his'n." He lumbered out of the ancient car, spun the crank expertly and amid the thundering of the motor, waved goodbye.

Rita stood frowning down at the letter in her hand. It must be the one he'd been waiting for, worrying over. For one desperate instant she thought of taking it into the kitchen and steaming it open—but she couldn't do that to her father, even though he refused to discuss the mysterious correspondence.

She'd better rush it over to the plant. Maybe it would relieve him. Anyway, the magazine article would interest him. It looked like a good write-up of the struggling, pioneer orange juice concentrating industry. He'd have to stop his work long enough to read it—that much rest would be something.

Disaster on the Way

As she backed the station wagon out the driveway, the hiss of the spraying machine in the grove stopped, and the sprayer hailed her. She left the car and ran down between the rows of waxy-green orange trees to the spray truck, her sandaled feet slipping into the fresh-plowed earth.

"Well your Dad the red spider's pretty thick this year! Givin' 'em a heavy dose." The man wiped sweat from his red face with his forearm adding sardonically, "Probably wasting the spray though. A heat spell'll kill 'em anyway."

Sunlight sifted in gleaming shafts of gold over Rita's small straight figure as she said firmly, "We're not having a heat spell this year. Two years of them is enough."

Two years has been more than enough, she thought bitterly as she drove the station wagon along the winding valley road. How the valley had changed! The gently rolling hills were burned the color of dry straw. White dust raised in billows behind the car—grim reminder of the drought that had lowered the water level in the valley's two wells to the danger point. If they had another early heat wave this year with no water to combat it—?

Why did all disaster seem to strike at once? Was it only eighteen months ago that the wire about her mother's illness had been delivered to her office in San Francisco? And, as though her mother's illness and death weren't enough of a crushing blow, now her father must be plagued with two crop failures and a factory, started as a humane experiment that seemed to be turning into a nightmare responsibility. She whirled the station wagon around the last curve and pulled up before the long, white sheds of the plant with angry speed.

The huge sorting room seemed dark after the brilliant California sunlight. Neighbor women, working at the sorting bins, greeted Rita with warm friendliness as she hurried along to the end of the building reserved for offices, and pushed open the door marked "President."

She stood for an instant tenderly watching her father, his white thatch of hair bent over his work, the lines of worry and thought cut deep in his forehead. Then she hurried to him to rumple his hair and chide him for forgetting to come home for lunch.

The letter patted her hand and grinned ruefully. Despite the white hair and telltale lines, his face was young when she smiled—as young as his eager, purposeful eyes. She dropped the magazine onto the desk. He glanced with deep interest at the article, "3,000,000 gallons of concentrated orange juice already—being distributed free from pharmaceutical houses in Europe to children under 2 years," he murmured with deep satisfaction.

"I'd say you were doing your part for defense," Rita grinned, and then she casually handed him his letter. She noted his quick tense frown when he saw it, and the trembling of his hands as he tore it open. A moment later she wished violently she had lost the thing altogether, for as he read, the color drained from his face, blue veins showed in the clefts of his high temples. Rita ran for a glass of water and made him drink it.

He thanked her, then got heavily to his feet and went to look out of his office window down over the sunlit orange and lemon grove patchwork of his beloved valley.

Tears rose to Rita's eyes in a rebellious flood even as her fists clenched for control. She had fought constantly during these trying days and months to keep her quick, spontaneous laugh, her ready wit, holding on as a drowning man holds to the last floating spar while a great tidal wave of hopelessness seemed about to sweep around her. She could stand it no longer. What was it that was stooping her father's straight shoulders, harrying his valiant spirit? She crossed to him to slip her hand in his.

"Now don't you worry about—" her father began, but she cut him short.

CHINA COMMAND SINKS SHIP

Chungking, Nov. 24 (AP)—American Skydragons of the China command sank a big Japanese ship—a transport or possibly an aircraft carrier—at Halphong, French Indo-China, Sunday to cap a series of devastating Allied raids upon the Japanese from Burma in the south to the Yangtze basin in China. The ship of between 12,000 and 15,000 tons was destroyed in a devastating assault upon the dock and warehouse area of the enemy-occupied port on the Gulf of Tonkin. It was announced at headquarters of Brig. Gen. Claire L. Chennault, commander of the China Air Task Force.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisons out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or burning passages with annoying astringency sometimes show there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes wash out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

LOIS TRY and JOHN CHESTER FILMING

Chapter One
Mysterious Correspondence

Old Jed Bowers smiled once a day.

His smile was perfectly timed with the chattering stop of his Model T Ford, the slamming of the Ralston's screen door, and the sight of Rita coming down the flagstone walk, graceful as a swan skimming a pond, the California sun glinting in her honey-gold hair and her brown velvet eyes smiling a welcome.

On his circuitous route for Uncle Sam, the other stops at the low, rambling ranch houses were just full routine but the sight of Rita, the aged postman was fond of putting it, "Was good for sore eyes."

"Just one letter today, Rita gal, and that's for yer pa." Jed's grin showed his toothless gums.

Rita smile faded as she looked at the long envelope with its expensively engraved name in the corner.

"Yur pa must be havin' quite a sight of business with that New York bank. Here of late he's always gettin' letters from 'em."

"Must be some kind of advertising," Rita murmured quickly. "I never heard him mention any business with them."

"Spose it is," Jed pulled the monthly Citrus magazine from the seat beside him. "An' here's some-thing 'bout makin' yur eyes bung out." He watched her with a sly grin as she opened it to the marked place, and chuckled at her happy gasp.

her father began, but she cut him short.

"I do though," she retorted crisply. "Come on, Rolly—give. I'm too old to steam them open and peek—so I must be old enough to be told about them."

He smiled at this, while his eyes somberly moved over her face. "Maybe you're right," he said thoughtfully. "But I've broken into your plans—bringing you home from San Francisco, and all. I didn't want to worry you."

"Don't you know a woman can stand anything but curiosity?"

Without a word, Ralston handed her the letter.

SOUGHT ARREST TO AVOID WAR

Chicago, Nov. 24 (AP)—"I'm too yellow to go to war," said the young man who stood before Judge Joseph B. Hermes in felony court yesterday.

The court, apparently surprised at his remarks, queried:

"Are you sincere?"

Theodore Kurgan, 23, a parolee being arraigned on a charge of larceny involving theft of $1,500 in blank money order checks, replied:

"Sure, I wanted to be arrested again."

Judge Hermes immediately imposed sentence of one year in jail and added:

"I will issue a warrant for your arrest for violation of parole when your term is served."

Detective Emmet Murphy said Kurgan had seven years yet to serve on a prison sentence for automobile larceny. He was paroled in July, 1941.

Under the new draft ruling for ex-convicts, Kurgan was reclassified as 1-A and faced early induction.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN NEAR ABBOTTSTOWN

Fire of unknown origin on Saturday afternoon destroyed a barn hog pen, chicken house and carriage shed on the farm owned by Paul F. Wolf, Abbottstown, tenanted by Leslie Renicker, and located along the New Oxford-East Berlin road, near the Pine Run schoolhouse. There was no estimate of the loss, which was partly covered by insurance.

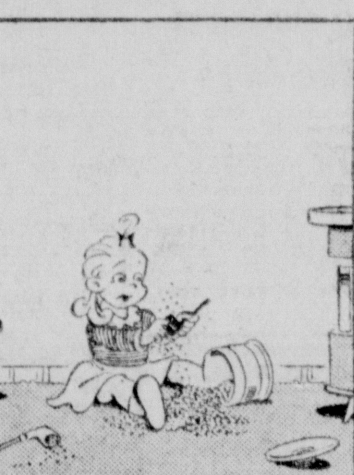

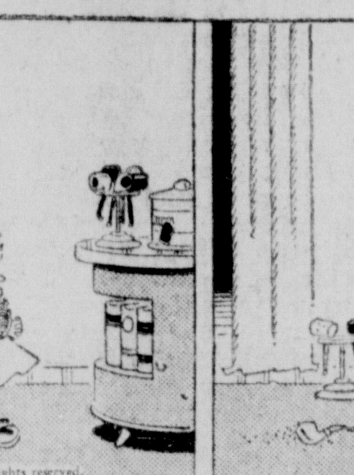

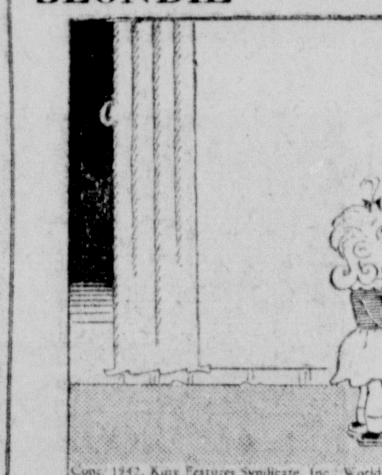

When the fire was discovered, between 1 and 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon, flames were issuing from the barn, a structure approximately 30 to 40 feet. The Abbottstown, East Berlin and New Oxford Fire companies were summoned. The firemen pumped water from Pine Run, nearly 2,000 feet from the burning buildings.

The fire had gained such headway before it was discovered that it was impossible to remove livestock from the barn. Four heifers and a bull perished. Also burned were several pieces of farm machinery.

HERE'S YOUR "ORDER FOR A BOMB" for delivery to Berlin or Tokyo!

Just read that "order," Mr. and Mrs. America!
Read it carefully.

It will deliver a bomb, with your democratic compliments, to the murderous dictators of Germany or Japan.

It's an application for a U. S. War Bond.

Sign it and Your Bomb will help tear apart the military machine the Axis powers have built to destroy you.

Put off signing it and the chances are good that you'll live just long enough to accept delivery of one "Made in Germany" or one "Made in Japan" yourself.

Because those boys aren't fooling. They're killers—and they're coming after you . . . fast!

So what are you going to do about it?

Wait until they are on American soil?

They're on it now! In the Aleutian Islands, if you want to pick a place close to home!

So, the time to act is now! To buy War Bonds with at least 10% of your income—every week—so your bomb can be delivered every week until this war is won.

It's easy to buy War Bonds at your post office, bank, savings and loan association, at many department stores, motion picture theaters, and other official sales agencies today!
